INTRODUCTION.

v.15

This manual, number fifteen in the series of Red Books, is an official state publication of New Hampshire, issued by the Department of State and designed for the use of the legislature of 1917. An attempt has been made to gather information of an historical character in this book which has never before been compiled. The previous fourteen numbers of this publication, issued biennially, have contained the roster of officials then in office, the election returns, the constitution, and occasionally some data of a special character.

This volume is divided into nine sections. The first section is introductory and descriptive. The second section contains brief histories of the state, and its several subdivisions. Official sources, such as the state and provincial papers, the records of the governor and council and the journals of the legislature, have been almost exclusively employed in gathering the facts and figures. Each town history, after it was prepared, was submitted to the librarian of the town library or to the town clerk for verification and possible improvement. The third section is statistical. Its facts and figures were obtained partly from official state records and partly from the census bureau of the federal government. The fourth section concerns the constitution. An account of its developments, secured from the journals of proceedings of the several constitutional conventions, is given. The fifth part contains the succession in office of all the state officers from the beginning. The offices and departments are arranged in chronological order according to their creation. The sixth part is federal and contains facts and figures secured from official records. Here will be found the official returns of the presidential primaries of last year. The seventh part is political. The history of the organization of the political parties only includes those that cast three per cent of the votes and are officially recognized. The eighth part contains the primary and election returns of last year. The ninth part contains the organization of the government at the present time. The legislative committees are not included but may be found in the legislative manual published in black binding.

ERRATA.

- P. 182. Add name of Rufus M. Weeks as Senator from District No. 14.
P. 226. 1916 vote for Presidential Electors 43,781 and 43,725 instead of 43,787 and 43,724.
P. 335 and 391. (First Senatorial District) total for Marble 943 instead of 1,448, and for Daley 1,375 instead of 1,675. Plurality for Daley 432 instead of 227.
P. 367. David instead of Daniel W. Coffey.
P. 400. Vote for Hart in Farmington was 423 instead of 433.
P. 461. Chief Justice Pike died January 9, 1917.

GEOGRAPHICAL LOCATION.

New Hampshire is situated the most northern of the thirteen original states and lies between latitude 42-40 and 45-18 north and longitude 70-37 and 72-37 west. It is about 180 miles long and 50 miles wide, although the extreme width is 93 miles.

It is bounded on the north by Quebec province in Canada, on the east by Maine and the Atlantic ocean, on the south by Massachusetts, and on the west by Vermont. The Connecticut river is the western boundary, and at the present time (1916) there is legal controversy to determine this exact boundary.

"MOTHER OF RIVERS."

Geographies sometimes speak of the state as the "Mother of Rivers." Five of the great streams of New England originate in its granite hills. The Connecticut river rises in the northern part, and for nearly one hundred miles of its winding course hems the shores of the state with a "broad seam of silver." The Pemigewasset river starts in the Profile lake in the Franconia mountains and joins the Winnepesaukee at Franklin to form the Merrimack, which is said to turn more spindles than any river in the world. The Cocheco and Salmon Falls rivers join at Dover to form the Piscataqua. In addition, two of the principal rivers of Maine, the Androscoggin and the Saco, have their beginnings in northern New Hampshire.

"THE GRANITE STATE."

New Hampshire is commonly known as the Granite State, and of late years by some writers is called the Queen State—"Queen by right of her natural beauty; queen by her native hardy spirit; queen by her diversified industry; queen by reason of her motherhood of great men. She is enthroned on hills of granite, diademed with sparkling waters and sceptered with industry."

The state entertains annually over two hundred thousand summer visitors, who resort in the mountain, lake and sea-shore scenery. The soil is suitable for fruits, flowers and vegetables. The forests of pine, spruce and hard wood add beauty to the landscape and wealth to the land.

The White Mountains are the natural feature which has the widest fame. There are over two hundred bodies of water, which cover one hundred and fifteen thousand acres and vary from small ponds to Lake Winnepesaukee, which is twenty-two miles long and eight miles wide.

No state grows apples of finer flavor than come from the hillsides of New Hampshire. Horticultural shows have no better exhibits than are presented from towns in the southern part of this state, where the orchards have been sprayed and treated by scientific methods. Strawberries, blueberries, peaches and products of the garden are grown in great quantities and shipped hundreds of miles.

Dairying is a large business and in recent years the quality of the herds has increased almost twofold. There are 5,779,840 acres of land in the state and about three fifths of it is farm land, with the number of farms estimated at nearly thirty thousand. There are over two and one half million acres of timber land, which contain over thirty thousand million feet of merchantable timber.

FINE SUMMER RESORTS.

It is estimated that every year more than two million dollars is permanently invested in the purchase of land and the construction of buildings in the rural districts. Nearly every town has some summer visitors. Winnepesaukee shores are lined with cottages and hotels; Sunapee has a summer population of over five thousand, who enjoy its beauties.

The state has a seaboard of about eighteen miles. Hampton and Rye beaches have been famous summer resorts since the days Whittier pitched his "tent on the beach." The salt waves of the Atlantic lap the sometimes sandy, sometimes rocky coast into one continuous pleasure ground, where surf bathing and scenic beauty enchant the visitor. In the early fall of 1915 a disastrous fire at Hampton Beach destroyed many of the hotels and places of business there, but the resort has since been rebuilt from the ruins until it is larger and more attractive than ever.

Portsmouth, the only sea city, has an historic past and a prosperous present with its large navy yard. Newcastle is a place of romance and aesthetic beauty and adventure. A large part of the Isles of Shoals in Portsmouth harbor belong to New Hampshire, with their cottages and hotels. The state boulevards for automobiles and a belt line of electric railway service connect the water resorts with the inland country.

FISH AND GAME.

In 1865 New Hampshire joined the vanguard of American science by establishing a fish and game department, the first one of its kind in New England. Since that date, some fifty years ago, the efforts of this department have been devoted to the propagation and conservation of fish and game.

In modern times the cultivation of fish and the protection of wild life have demanded the application of scientific methods quite as much as any other element of our life. It is a known fact that while European countries have found vast resources in their shore fisheries, the United States is by no means able to rely on her coast fisheries, and has thus been obliged to develop her inland waters to meet the needs that otherwise could have been met only by importation from other countries. Moreover, while Europe's supply is bound to lessen in time to come, our supply will continue to increase.

Herein lies the purpose of the state department of fish and game, to see that New Hampshire stands in the van, not in the rear, of developing her natural resources.

The state department is using many methods. In the first place, it is trying to secure the co-operation of the people, without which no department can succeed. It advocates the formation of sportsmen's clubs; already there are twenty-six active ones in the state.

It is securing legislation to avert the destruction of the life of our waters and fields. It is struggling for the conservation of all desirable living things. It has established a new hatchery, from which five million fishes were distributed last spring to every suitable body of water in the state. It is establishing game refuges and introducing new game birds into the state.

"COME TO NEW HAMPSHIRE."

New Hampshire believes in progress and development in every direction. She invites the whole world to visit her mountains, the "playground of America." Those seeking opportunity for profitable farming will do well to write for further information to the Commissioner of Agriculture, Concord, N. H.; sportsmen are invited to send for literature and advice to the Fish and Game Commissioner, Concord, N. H.; those looking for business openings, either in manufacturing enterprises or in the retail field, should correspond with the New Hampshire Board of Trade, Concord, N. H.

The Boston & Maine Railroad Publicity Bureau at Boston, Mass., the New Hampshire Manufacturers' Association and the New Hampshire Historical Society, Concord, N. H., are other sources from whom information not given in this volume may be secured.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

New Hampshire was one of the thirteen original colonies which revolted from English rule and founded the United States of America, one hundred and forty years ago. When this continent was settled New Hampshire was a part of a grant made in 1620 by James I, King of England, to the Plymouth company, a commercial organization formed to develop the "new world." This was two hundred and ninety-six years ago.

The name of New Hampshire was first given to this section of the country in 1629, when the Plymouth company gave a grant of part of its colonial possessions to Captain John Mason, a gentleman of Hampshire in England. New Hampshire in those days was roughly described as "that part of the main land of New England" between the Merrimack and Piscataqua rivers. It was more than a hundred years before the boundaries of the province of New Hampshire were definitely fixed, but once settled upon, in 1740 on the south and east and in 1764 on the west, these lines have remained practically intact to this day. There is, however, a long-standing dispute now in progress between New Hampshire and Vermont over the boundary line, a difference of opinion aggravated by the changing bed of the Connecticut river.

In 1622 a grant of part of New Hampshire was given by patent to Captain Mason and a partner, Sir Ferdinand Gorges, by the council of Plymouth. Robert Gorges was appointed the first governor, and he came to America two years later and assumed his office. Five years later the patent of Laconia was granted to a company of traders, but the extent of the company's jurisdiction was not definitely settled upon.

In 1629, the same year that the Laconian patent was granted, Captain Mason and his partner reached an agreement whereby Captain Mason took over the whole of New Hampshire and relinquished to his partner his rights on territory in Maine east of the Piscataqua river. The Council of Plymouth confirmed this division of territory.

In 1635 the Council of Plymouth re-issued its patent to Mason and then dissolved. A document purporting to be a charter directly from the king of England to Captain Mason, issued that same year, giving the captain the New Hampshire territory then held by him, is in existence, but whether or not this document is authentic is a question among historians.

The first settlement in New Hampshire was in Rye (then called "Little Harbor" and afterwards called Portsmouth), in 1623, the second settlement at Dover in 1628, the third at Exeter in 1638 and the fourth at Hampton in 1639. The objects of these adventurers into the primitive wilderness of New Hampshire were to clear the land for cultivation, to seek for the mineral wealth which was supposed to exist, to establish and carry on fisheries on the rivers, which teemed with fish, and along the coast, and to barter with the native Indian tribes of the locality.

The Massachusetts colonists had come to America to found settlements where they might have freedom in religious worship—a freedom which, however, they were unwilling to grant to any not of their faith. It was a day when religious opinions were paramount, and politics and legislation were subordinate, when creeds claimed precedence over rights. Unless a person subscribed unreservedly to the established creed he was a heretic. In such a class were the Quakers, Roger Williams, Anne Hutchinson and her brother-in-law, Rev. John Wheelwright, a man of superior endowments and high culture, who, disenfranchised and banished from Massachusetts, led forty of his exiled adherents into the wilderness of New Hampshire and settled Exeter in July, 1638.

Underlying these early settlements was a deep religious conviction, perhaps not so radical as in Massachusetts, but still present, which again manifests itself when the people of the state, while formulating a frame of government, gave the religious idea so prominent a place in the Bill of Rights.

CAPTAIN MASON'S EFFORTS.

Charles I, for political and religious reasons, had granted Mason extraordinary rights and privileges. Mason had been not only a faithful adherent of the king, but also a devout and zealous supporter of the Church of England. It was inevitable therefore that his ideas of government and religion should be distasteful to the Massachusetts colonists so near at hand.

Mason's colony was, however, solely a business venture. He established no government over it. The settlements were under the immediate direction of agents commissioned by and answerable to the proprietor. They were ruled as a body of workmen are ruled—just as the Hudson Bay Company governs through its factors.

Mason died in 1635, and while his early efforts to occupy the lands allotted to him were persevering and meritorious, the founding of colonies was a matter requiring the expenditure of large sums of money, of which neither Mason nor his descendants had command, and his plans with regard to the colonization of New Hampshire failed of execution.

There was no provincial government in those days, but each town maintained its own government. Religious differences prevented as years went on the development of a central government, and in 1641 the New Hampshire towns resigned their jurisdiction to Massachusetts and became a part of Norfolk county of that province.

BECOMES ROYAL PROVINCE, 1679.

After thirty-eight years as a part of Massachusetts, New Hampshire became a province of itself in 1679 by an order of the king of England, which was preceded by a decree of the English courts to the effect that Massachusetts had no right to extend its jurisdiction over New Hampshire.

King Charles II issued a commission to John Cutts of Portsmouth in that year to be president of the province and to govern it under the king, with the aid of a council and assembly. This was the real beginning of constitutional government in this territory, which has continued without serious interruption to the present time.

The commission of the king reserved to him the right to veto all the acts of the provincial legislature and the right to dissolve the legislature at his pleasure. The New Hampshire settlers did not like this arrangement as well as they did the jurisdiction of Massachusetts.

The governors sent to the province by the king proved to be avaricious tyrants. Even the Lords of Trade in England would not uphold them in some of their actions, and time and again, at the instigation of the heirs of Captain Mason (the Masonian Proprietors, so called) the royal governors tried to force the people to surrender their titles to lands and take leases from the Masonian Proprietors.

THE MASONIAN CONTROVERSY.

In 1690 the people, mindful of their former pleasant relations with Massachusetts, resolved on a second union with their old ally, and sent a petition to William and Mary of England.

Through the influence of Samuel Allen, who had bought out the interests of the Mason heirs, the king failed to grant this request, and the union, which had been accepted by Massachusetts, was short lived.

Allen was appointed governor and his son-in-law became his deputy. In this way were the claims of Mason's heirs, so abhorrent to the people, continued until the death of Allen's son early in the reign of Queen Anne. These suits and claims were finally settled in 1787 by compromise.

"There is probably no controversy on record that involved so many parties, continued so many years, and created so many lawsuits as Mason's claim to New Hampshire. Kings and queens, nobles and plebeians, proprietors and counsellors, courts and legislatures for nearly a century were constantly agitating the question of the right of soil of this wild, rough and rocky state. Generation after generation of claimants died, but the controversy lived. Judges of the king's bench and of the state courts again and again decided cases at issue, but still the spirits which avarice had conjured up would not down at their bidding. The people outlived their prosecutors and the fire went out for want of fuel." (Sanborn, History of New Hampshire.)

For forty-three years, from 1698 until 1741, New Hampshire and Massachusetts were under the same governor, although each province maintained its identity. At the expiration of this period a new arrangement was made by which New Hampshire had one of its own sons, Benning Wentworth, appointed governor, and the provincial legislature was given increased authority.

THE WENTWORTHS, GOVERNORS.

He served for twenty-six years during an era of good feeling such as the colony had never before known. He was a benefactor of Moor's Indian School, which under his successor was chartered as Dartmouth college.

He was succeeded by his nephew, John Wentworth, in 1767, who also was well received by the people and by the assembly. As governor, he granted a charter to Dartmouth college and endowed it with forty-five thousand acres of land.

"He was universally beloved by the people. He had uniformly endeavored to promote the general public welfare by encouraging commerce, constructing highways, establishing courts and fostering learning." (Sanborn.)

But in 1774, as representative of King George III, he assisted General Gage in his work on fortifications in Boston. This brought down upon him the intense dislike of the revolutionary party and he fled from the state to Boston, where he might have the protection of General Gage. Still retaining the title of governor, he returned for a time to Fort William and Mary, from which place he issued a proclamation dissolving the assembly and shortly afterward set sail for England. He was the last of royal governors.

Before Governor Wentworth quit, the provincial legislature took official action in regard to the revolution, and a committee of safety was organized. This committee summoned a revolutionary assembly, which met in Exeter and was known as the First Provincial Congress. Four other congresses of similar character followed.

The last meeting of the old provincial assembly took place in 1775. The same year the American Continental Congress gave the New Hampshire revolutionists the right to set up a new government.

THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR.

About one half of the soldiers at the Battle of Bunker Hill were New Hampshire troops under the command of such leaders as John Stark, James Reid and Enoch Poor. Throughout the struggle for independence the revolutionary state government, under the direction of the committee of safety, of which Meshech Weare was president, furnished troops in large numbers.

General John Sullivan distinguished himself on many battlefields, and General Stark's exploits at Bennington is an incident of renown. It was largely the New Hampshire forces which brought about the surrender of Burgoyne.

With the close of the Revolution this state entered actively into the organization of the federal government. John Langdon, one of the early governors, was the first president of the United States senate, and was nominated for vice-president of the nation.

In 1780 a petition by the slaves for freedom was circulated in this state. Dartmouth college began to develop about that time and the legislature gave the college the right to raise money by a lottery. In 1792 the first bank was chartered to do business, and the year before the State Medical Society was founded, with Governor Joseph Bartlett at its head. In 1796 the first turnpike and state highway from Concord to Portsmouth was chartered.

SECOND WAR WITH ENGLAND.

When the second war with England broke out in 1812 Governor John Langdon drafted thirty-five hundred men at the request of the president. The state militia at that time was in its most flourishing condition and consisted of three divisions, six brigades and thirty-seven regiments.

William Plumer succeeded to the governorship before hostilities had advanced, and he organized the first regiment of New Hampshire volunteers, which later became part of the regular army. In 1813 there was a political overturn, in which former Governor John T. Gilman defeated Governor Plumer for re-election. Governor Gilman was head of the Federalist party in the state, and its return to power was celebrated by abolishing the courts and turning out the judges and other officers. The Federalists were opposed to the war, but all the people, regardless of party, became afraid of English invasion and were solid in defense of the state. The inhabitants of Portsmouth in particular were frightened on several occasions of a British landing and attack, and Governor Gilman summoned the entire militia to the defense of that city.

A native of New Hampshire, Lewis Cass of Exeter, achieved military distinction in Michigan. He was later a senator from that state, candidate for the presidency in 1848 and then secretary of state under Buchanan. In 1814 a secessionary gathering was held at Hartford, Connecticut, at which delegates were present from most of the New England states. Governor Gilman was blocked in his efforts to secure New Hampshire representation at the convention by three of his councilors, who were Democrats.

DARTMOUTH "UNIVERSITY."

In 1815 a very destructive tempest occurred. That same year there was a political tempest, when former Governor Plumer was returned to power and the judges and office-holders were again addressed out of office. The state house was located on its present site during the 1815 administration. A controversy arose over Dartmouth college, which for several years was a paramount issue in state politics. The legislature changed the name to Dartmouth University and reorganized the government of the institution, but the United States Supreme Court ruled that the legislature could not overturn a charter that had been granted by the king.

In 1817 President James Monroe visited the state, and there was an era of political good feeling which lasted for many years. In 1819 the use of the power-loom was commenced at the Amoskeag Mills in Manchester, and from that time these mills developed until they became the largest in the world. A most destructive freshet in 1824 destroyed the bridges over the Merrimack river and damaged a good deal of property.

General Lafayette visited the state in 1824 and was received with the greatest enthusiasm. In 1833 President Andrew Jackson rode on horseback into Concord, accompanied by his vice-president, Martin Van Buren, his secretary of war, Lewis Cass, who was a native of Exeter; and his secretary of the navy, Levi Woodbury of Portsmouth. Partisan feeling was bitter in those days and the celebration was indulged in principally by Democrats.

DEVELOPMENT OF INDUSTRY.

In 1835 and subsequent years railroads were chartered and constructed in all parts of the state and a period of great commercial development was inaugurated. This led to the growth of several towns on the railroad into cities. Chief among these was Manchester, which had a fortunate location at Amoskeag Falls, and in 1846 it was incorporated as a city.

The war with Mexico broke out that year, and although there was no great enthusiasm for the war in New Hampshire, many sons of the state, such as Franklin Pierce, John Bedell and Dr. John D. Walker, took a prominent part in the military activities. After the war many other young men emigrated to the fertile prairies of the West.

In 1850 the entire expenses of the legislative, executive and judicial departments of the state government amounted to only $36,000. During that year a convention was held to revise the Constitution, and Franklin Pierce was its president. Two years later he was elected president of the United States, receiving the support of every state in the Union but four.

Before the Pierce administration was through the Democratic party lost control of New Hampshire. In 1855 the American or Know-Nothing party elected Ralph Metcalf governor and John P. Hale senator. From this party there developed the Republican organization, which was in power through the Civil War and for nearly twenty years after. St. Paul's School in Concord was opened in 1856 and is one of the most select preparatory institutions in the country.

38,943 MEN IN THE CIVIL WAR.

In 1861 the Civil War broke out. During the first year of the war New Hampshire sent eight regiments of infantry to the front, and during the second year nine more, and in 1864 still another. Altogether about thirty-nine thousand men went from this state to fight for the preservation of the union. Nineteen hundred were killed in action or died of wounds, twenty-five hundred died of disease and two hundred and eighty-five were missing. About sixteen hundred men re-enlisted after their first term of service.

In 1866 a railroad was built up Mount Washington. The following year the department of public instruction was established and from that time the state has enjoyed universal common school education. In 1874 the Democratic party obtained control of all branches of the government for the first time since the war, and there was a complete overturn in offices. In 1878 there was a revision of the laws of the state, the new prison was built and the militia was reorganized. Biennial elections were substituted for annual elections by an amendment to the Constitution that year. In 1887 there took place a very bitter railroad struggle in the legislature between the Concord railroad and the Boston & Maine railroad. This was followed by an organization of the Boston & Maine system throughout northern New England on a basis of leases, the New Hampshire railroads all leasing to the Boston and Maine. An attempt to reorganize the railroad by modifying or breaking the leases in 1915 and 1916 failed, and in the latter year the road went into receivership.

The history of the state since 1888 is within the memory of the generation now living and to recite it would be beyond the scope of this legislative manual, which is designed more to preserve facts concerning the early days of the state's history. For the past thirty years New Hampshire has grown in every way. Her industries have flourished, her population has increased, her churches, schools and colleges have expanded, and her attractions as a summer resort have become known to all the world.

THE COUNTIES.

When New Hampshire was a part of the colony of Massachusetts Bay, from 1641 to 1679, the principal towns of New Hampshire were part of Norfolk county in Massachusetts. New Hampshire did not divide herself into counties, however, until 1769, six years before the Revolution. In that year the five counties of Rockingham, Strafford, Hillsborough, Cheshire and Grafton were established.

Coos was the sixth county established in 1803. Merrimack and Sullivan were established on the same day in 1827, and Belknap and Carroll on the same day in 1840. Since the original division into counties the legislature on twenty occasions has amended and changed the layout. The following is a list of counties in their customary order, giving the name of each, the date of its establishment and the place of the county seat.

Name.	Date.	County Seat.
Rockingham	1769	Exeter
Strafford	1769	Dover
Belknap	1840	Laconia
Carroll	1840	Ossipee
Merrimack	1827	Concord
Hillsborough	1769	Nashua
Cheshire	1769	Keene
Sullivan	1827	Newport
Grafton	1769	Haverhill
Coos	1803	Lancaster

Rockingham county is in the southeastern part of the state and was the first part settled. It was named for the Marquis of Rockingham and includes the city of Portsmouth and thirty-six towns.

Strafford county is in the eastern part of the state, north of Rockingham county. It was named for the Earl of Strafford and includes three cities and ten towns.

Belknap county takes in the lake region in the central part of the state. It was named for Dr. Jeremy Belknap, who wrote a history of the state, and includes the city of Laconia and ten towns.

Carroll county is in the east central part of the state and is sparsely settled. It was named for Charles Carroll of Carrollton, Virginia, who signed the Declaration of Independence, and includes eighteen towns.

Merrimack county is in the Merrimack river region in the south central part of the state. It was named for the river and includes two cities and twenty-five towns.

Hillsborough county is in the south central part of the state and is the most thickly populated. It was named for the Earl of Hillsborough, a councilor of King George III, and includes two cities and twenty-nine towns.

Cheshire county is in the southwestern corner of the state, and at the time the state government was organized there was some controversy over whether the territory now embraced in the county belonged to New Hampshire or Vermont. It was named for Cheshire county in England and includes the city of Keene and twenty-two towns.

Sullivan county is in the west central part of the state, and like Cheshire County, was embroiled in early boundary disputes. It was named for John Sullivan, a general in the Revolutionary army and later governor, and includes fifteen towns.

Grafton county is in the northwestern part of the state and large parts of it are sparsely settled. It was named for an English nobleman and includes thirty-nine towns.

Coos county is in the northern part of the state and is the largest county. It was named after an Indian word meaning "crooked," and was so called on account of the bend in the Connecticut river. It has an area of about a million acres and includes the city of Berlin and twenty towns.

THE CITIES.

Berlin was granted in 1771 to Sir William Mayne and others and named "Maynesborough" in honor of the grantee. The first settlement was made in 1821 by William Sessions. In 1829 the town was incorporated and the name changed to Berlin after the capital of Germany. In 1897 it became a city and is the most northern city in the state. In 1902 an electric railroad was built to Gorham. Coos county, second congressional, first councilor and first senatorial districts. Population, 11,780.

Concord was originally known as "Penacook" and was granted by the Massachusetts Colony in 1659 to Richard Waldron and others. It was regranted by the same authority in 1725 to Ebenezer Eastman and others, and he was the first settler in 1727. The town was incorporated in 1733 by Massachusetts and the name changed to "Rumford." It was reincorporated in 1765 by New Hampshire and the name changed to Concord. There was a long standing dispute between New Hampshire's grant of 1727 and the Massachusetts grant, which the king settled in 1762 in favor of "Rumford." Parts of Canterbury and Loudon were annexed in 1784 and part of Bow in 1804. Concord became the seat of government about 1800. The first state capitol was built in 1816 and remodeled in 1865, and the legislature has met in it since 1819. Concord became a city in 1853. Part of Bow was annexed in 1856. Merrimack county, second congressional, fifth councilor and seventh, ninth and fifteenth senatorial districts. Population, 21,497.

Dover was settled in 1623 and was originally called "Hilton's Point" from the name of one of the first settlers, Edward Hilton. Later the name "Northam" was given it, and finally Dover, after an English town. The settlement at the falls of the river, now the compact part of the city, was called "Cocheco," an Indian word meaning foaming water. Dover suffered severely at the hands of the Indians through its early history, and in 1689, when Major Richard Waldron was in command of the militia, became the victim of a massacre which nearly destroyed the settlement. In 1713 Newington was set off as a parish; in 1729, Somersworth; in 1732, Durham; and in 1755, Madbury. In 1792 the legislature met here. Dover became a city in 1855. Part of Rollinsford was annexed in 1879. Strafford county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-first senatorial districts. Population, 13,247.

Franklin was incorporated in 1828 from parts of Andover, Salisbury, Northfield and Sanbornton and was named in honor of Benjamin Franklin. The first settlers were John Webster and Ezekiel Webster in 1759. Part of Franklin was annexed to Salisbury in 1869. It became a city in 1895, and is the smallest city in the state. Merrimack county, second congressional, fifth councilor and seventh senatorial districts. Population, 6,132.

Keene was granted in 1733 by the Massachusetts colony and named "Upper Ashuelot." Early settlements were made, which were abandoned in 1746 on account of Indian raids, and the first permanent settlements were in 1750. The town was incorporated in 1753 and the name changed to Keene in honor of Sir Benjamin Keene. The northeastern part of the town was put into the incorporation of Sullivan in 1787 and another part, together with parts of Nelson and Marlborough, went to make up the incorporation of Roxbury in 1812. In the same year part of Swanzey was annexed to Keene. In 1794 part of Keene was annexed to Sullivan. In 1865 Keene refused to accept a city charter, but in 1873 accepted one. Cheshire county, second congressional, fourth councilor and tenth senatorial districts. Population, 10,068.

Laconia was set off from Meredith in 1855 and incorporated. Part of Gilford was annexed in 1874 and part of Laconia annexed to Gilford two years later. It became a city in 1893. Belknap county, first congressional, fifth councilor and sixth senatorial districts. Population, 10,183.

Manchester was originally known as "Harrytown" or "Old Harry Town." The place was granted by the Masonian Proprietors in 1735 to the "Snow-shoe men" of Captain William Tyng and the name changed to "Tyng's Town." In 1751 it was incorporated and the name changed to "Derryfield." The first town meeting was held in the house of John Hall that same year. In 1795 a gore of land was annexed on the north side. In 1810 the name was changed to Manchester, after the cotton center of England. In 1846 it became a city and is now the largest city in the state. In 1853 the village of "Amoskeag" was severed from Goffstown and annexed, and the village of "Squog" from Bedford, so that Manchester now takes in territory on both sides of the Merrimack river. Attempts to annex more territory from Bedford, Goffstown and Hooksett in the legislature of 1915 were unsuccessful. Efforts to make this the capital were unsuccessful in 1863 and in 1907. Hillsborough county, first congressional, third councilor and sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth, nineteenth and twenty-second senatorial districts. Population, 70,063 (85,000 in 1916 estimated).

Nashua was granted in 1673 and named "Dunstable" or "Old Dunstable," and a charter was obtained from Massachusetts. In 1739 part of "Dunstable" was set off and made into "West Parish of Dunstable," which later became Hollis. In 1741 the boundary between New Hampshire and Massachusetts was established, so that it divided "Dunstable" very nearly in the middle. In 1746 the New Hampshire part of "Dunstable" was incorporated. In 1763 part of the town, known as "One Pine Hill," was annexed to Hollis, and in 1773 additional territory was annexed to the same town. In 1825 mills were built in "Dunstable," which made it an industrial center, and in 1835 the Boston & Lowell railroad went into operation. The name was changed to Nashua in 1836. Part of the town was set off in 1842 and incorporated into "Nashville," but in 1853 these two towns were reunited and made into the city of Nashua. Hillsborough county, second congressional, fourth councilor and twelfth and thirteenth senatorial districts. Population, 26,005.

Portsmouth was settled in 1623 and is one of the oldest cities in the country. In 1631 the "Council of Plymouth" granted the place as a township and named it "Pascataqua," which later was changed to "Strawberry Bank." In 1653 the general court of Massachusetts incorporated it and changed the name to Portsmouth after an English city. In 1693 part of Portsmouth was set off and incorporated into Newcastle. In 1704 another part was set off and incorporated into Greenland, and in 1721 more territory was severed and annexed to Greenland. In 1726 part of Portsmouth, together with other territory, was incorporated into Rye. In 1821 part of Newington was annexed to Portsmouth. Portsmouth became a city in 1849. In 1905 the envoys of Russia and Japan met in this city and signed the Treaty of Portsmouth, which brought an end to the Russian-Japanese war. This city has a navy yard, large breweries, and many industries. Its harbor is one of the best on the coast, with a twelve-mile channel and big shipping facilities by rail and water. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-fourth senatorial districts. Population, 11,269.

Rochester was incorporated in 1722 and included what are now Farmington and Milton. The first settlements were made in 1728 by Captain Timothy Roberts and others, but Indian depredations prevented permanent settlement until about 1760. One of the first settlers in 1728 was Benjamin Richards, who soon left Rochester and settled what is now Atkinson. In 1798 the western part of the town was set off and incorporated into Farmington. In 1802 another part was set off and incorporated into Milton. In 1846 part of Rochester was annexed to Barrington. It became a city in 1891. Rochester was the home of John P. Hale, who ran for president in 1852; Nathaniel Upham, who was a congressman in 1817; David Barker, who was a congressman in 1827; Dr. James Farrington, who was a congressman in 1837; and Jacob H. Ela, who served in congress from 1867 to 1884. Rochester is now called the "City of Governors," having furnished the state with the last two chief executives. Strafford county, first congressional, second councilor and twentieth senatorial districts. Population, 8,868.

Charlestown was granted in 1735 as "No. 4" and regranted in 1753. Charlestown possesses historical importance as having been for many years the most advanced English settlement towards Canada, and the scene of repeated conflicts between English and French-Indian forces. A log fort built in 1744 withstood several attacks, the last and fiercest being in 1747, when Captain Phineas Stevens with thirty men defended it successfully against some seven hundred French and Indians in a three days' battle. This fight definitely determined the English supremacy in northern New England and ranks among the most important fights of the half century of conflict which delimited French influence in America. Parts of Charlestown and Walpole were erected into the town of Langdon in 1787 when the legislature was in session in Charlestown. Part of Unity was annexed to it in 1810. Sullivan county, second congressional, fifth councilor and eighth senatorial districts. Population, 1,496.

Chatham was granted in 1767 and settled in 1781. An additional grant was made in 1817. Chatham was annexed to Strafford county in 1823 and part of Conway was annexed to Chatham at the same time. In 1840 Chatham was included in the new county of Carroll and in 1869 part of the town was annexed to Bartlett. First congressional, first councilor and fourth senatorial districts. Population, 209.

Chester was granted in 1720 as "Cheshire" and two years later was incorporated as Chester. In 1763 part of the town was incorporated into Candia and another part into Raymond the next year. In 1822 part of Chester, with parts of Dunbarton and Goffstown, were incorporated into Hooksett. In 1845 still another portion was incorporated as Auburn. In 1848 the line between Chester and Candia was established after a long dispute. Rockingham county, first congressional, third councilor and twenty-second senatorial districts. Population, 818.

Chesterfield was granted in 1752 as "No. 1" and regranted as Chesterfield in 1760. It was settled the following year. Cheshire county, second congressional, fourth councilor and tenth senatorial districts. Population, 770.

Chichester was granted in 1727 by Lieutenant Governor John Wentworth to Nathaniel Gookin and others, including most of the state officers. It was eight miles square. Claremont, the largest town in the state, was granted in 1764 to Josiah Willard of Winchester and sixty-eight others. Shares were reserved for Governor Benning Wentworth, the Church of England, the first minister, each school and the propagation of the gospel, and all the white pine trees were reserved for the King's Navy. Three of the grantees settled there, Samuel Ashley and his two sons, Samuel Ashley, Jr., and Oliver Ashley. Doctor William Sumner and his brother, Benjamin Sumner, who were respectively the father and uncle of Clement Sumner, another grantee, were among the first settlers. The first meeting of the proprietors was held in Winchester in 1767 and the second in Claremont later the same year. A tract of five hundred acres was laid out as "the governor's farm," and forty acres were given to William Porter for doing settlement duty. On their arrival in Claremont the proprietors found two "squatters," Moses Spofford and David Lynde, who are said to have settled as early as 1762; and in 1763 was born in a log cabin Elijah Spofford, the first white child in town. In 1767 Benjamin Tyler came from Connecticut and built a mill on the Sugar river. Later he brought ore from Charlestown and started a forge and smelting works, and later still built a flax mill. In 1813 Asa Meacham built the first woolen mill in that section. In 1810 the first Merino sheep ever imported into this country were brought by William Jarvis, consul to Spain, and introduced into Claremont by his kinsman, Dr. Leonard Jarvis. Part of Unity was annexed in 1828. Sullivan county, second congressional, fifth councilor and eighth senatorial districts. Population, 7,529.

Clarksville was settled in 1832 by Benjamin Clark and was known as "Dartmouth College Grant" until 1853, when the place was incorporated as Clarksville. The privilege of collecting the town taxes was sold to John Roby in 1832 for twelve and one half cents. Coos county, second congressional, first councilor and second senatorial districts. Population, 271.

Colebrook was granted in 1762 as "Dryden" and regranted in 1770 under the name of "Colebrooke Towne" and incorporated as Colebrook in 1796. The Upper Coos railroad to Colebrook was opened in 1887. Coos county, second congressional, first councilor and second senatorial districts. Population, 1,905.

Columbia was granted in 1762 as "Preston" and regranted in 1770 under the name of "Cockburne Towne," and three years later a grant of about six thousand acres, including this place, was made to Seth Wales and seventeen others. In 1797 the place was incorporated as "Cockburne" and in 1804 "Wales' Location" was annexed to it. The name was changed to Columbia in 1811. Coos county, second congressional, first councilor and second senatorial districts. Population, 619.

Conway was granted and incorporated in 1765 in two sections, the first of twenty-three thousand and forty acres and the second of two thousand additional acres. Daniel Foster and others were the grantees. James Osgood, Benjamin Osgood, John Doloff and Ebenezer Burbank settled the place in 1764. The town was regranted in 1772 and in 1778 was annexed to Strafford county. In 1823 part of the town was annexed to Chatham. Conway was put into Carroll county in 1840. First congressional, first councilor and fourth senatorial districts. Population, 3,413.

Cornish was granted in 1763 to Reverend Saumel McClintock and sixty-nine others and named Cornish. The first settlements were made two years later by Samuel Chase and his two sons, Samuel and Dudley Chase; Daniel Putnam, Dyer Spaulding and others. In 1767 a town meeting was held. In 1778 it was one of the towns that voted to unite with Vermont. In 1808 the boundary between Cornish and Grantham was established. The next year part of Croydon was annexed and in 1844 part of Grantham was annexed. Cornish was the national summer capitol during the first part of the presidency of Woodrow Wilson. It has a large colony of writers and artists. Sullivan county, second congressional, fifth councilor and eighth senatorial districts. Population, 1,005.

Croydon was granted in 1763 by Governor Benning Wentworth to Samuel Chase and sixty-four others. It contained 23,040 acres, with the customary reservations for church and state. The first settlement was in 1766 by Moses Whipple, Seth Chase, David Warren, Ezekiel Powers and others, mostly from Grafton, Mass. The town was rechartered in 1768, and when the Revolution broke out there were one hundred and forty-three inhabitants. The town furnished fifty-five soldiers for the Revolutionary army and twelve more for the War of 1812. In 1808 the northern part of the town was annexed to Grantham, and in 1809 another tract was annexed to Cornish. In 1820 there were 1,060 inhabitants. The town celebrated its one hundred fiftieth anniversary August 24, 1916. Sullivan county, second congressional, fifth councilor and eighth senatorial districts. Population, 324.

Dalton was granted in 1764 to James Avery and others as part of "Cheswick." Six years later it was regranted as "Apthorp" in honor of George Apthorp of England, one of the grantees, and in 1773 there were fourteen inhabitants. In 1784, when New Hampshire became a state, the place was divided into two towns, the northern part becoming Dalton and the southern Littleton. Coos county, second congressional, first councilor and second senatorial districts. Population, 475.

Danbury was made from a part of Alexandria and incorporated in 1795. In 1808 the boundaries were established between Danbury and Hill ("New Chester") and Alexandria. In 1848 part of Wilmot was annexed and in 1858 part of Hill. Danbury was annexed to Merrimack county in 1874. Another part of Wilmot was annexed to Danbury in 1878. Merrimack county, second congressional, fifth councilor and seventh senatorial districts. Population, 592.

Danville was settled by Jonathan Sanborn in 1738 and was a part of Kingston until 1760, when it was incorporated as "Hawke." Part of Fremont ("Poplin") was annexed in 1783. In 1836 the name was changed to Danville and in 1877 a small part of Hampstead was annexed. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-third senatorial districts. Population, 517.

Deerfield was included in the grant of Nottingham in 1722 to about two hundred men from Boston and vicinity by the governor of Massachusetts in payment for "services rendered and grievances endured." A petition to the governor by these men the previous year asked for a township to be named "New Boston," but the name actually given to it was Nottingham. In 1750 a small settlement was made in the western part of Nottingham and this settlement was set off as a separate parish. In 1756 this parish petitioned to be incorporated, and while Governor Wentworth was considering this petition, a Mr. Batchelder killed a very large, fat deer in the settlement and gave it to the governor, which so pleased His Excellency that he named the town Deerfield. It was incorporated in 1766. In 1762 four men, "with axe and gun," went into the wild, unsettled part of northern Nottingham and made clearings, one going as far as the "Narrows." When this settlement had three hundred inhabitants, in 1773, it was chartered as Northwood. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-second senatorial districts. Population, 917.

Deering was chartered by Governor John Wentworth in 1774 in honor of Lady Wentworth, whose maiden name was Frances Deering. It had been settled in 1765 by Alexander Robinson, William McKean and others, and was known first as "Cumberland" and then as "Society Land." In 1842 the southwestern part of the town, together with parts of Greenfield, Frankestown and Hancock, formed the town of Bennington. Hillsborough county, second congressional, fourth councilor and ninth senatorial districts. Population, 353.

Derry was a part of Londonderry ("Nutfield") until its incorporation in 1827. The special telegraph line to Chester was laid in 1877 and in 1892 telephone connection was established with Manchester. It is a shoe-manufacturing center. Rockingham county, first congressional, third councilor and twenty-second senatorial districts. Population, 7,000 (estimated).

Dorchester was granted in 1761, 1766 and 1772. A special highway tax of two pence per acre was levied in 1791 and a similar tax of three cents per acre in 1801. Grafton county, second congressional, first councilor and fifth senatorial districts. Population, 241.

Dublin was granted in 1749 to Matthew Thornton and thirty-nine others and was known as "Monadnock No. 3." The first settlement was made about 1752 by William Thornton. The town was incorporated in 1771. Part of it was annexed to Marlborough in 1818. In 1870 parts of Dublin and Nelson were incorporated into Harrisville. Cheshire county, second congressional, fourth councilor and eleventh senatorial districts. Population, 571.

Dummer was granted in 1773 and incorporated in 1848, after petitions for and remonstrances against had been presented to the legislature. Part of Stark was annexed to it in 1868. Coos county, second congressional, first councilor and first senatorial districts. Population, 292.

Dunbarton was granted in 1735 by Massachusetts to Capt. John Gorham's men and regranted by the Masonian Proprietors in 1748 and 1752 to Archibald Stark, father of General John Stark, and was known as "Starktown" until its incorporation as Dunbarton in 1765. The first settlement was made by James Rogers and Joseph Putney some years prior to 1746. They built log houses at "Great Meadow" and during subsequent years were raided by Indians. Major Caleb Stark opened the first store in town, and his customers came from the Connecticut river and places more than fifty miles distant. In 1822 part of the town was incorporated into Hooksett. The boundary between Dunbarton and Goffstown was established in 1853. Merrimack county, second congressional, fifth councilor and fourteenth senatorial districts. Population, 513.

Durham was originally a part of Dover and was known as "Oyster River" from its settlement before 1640 until its incorporation as Durham in 1732. It was a frontier town, which suffered severely from Indian attacks. The western part of the town was set off and incorporated as Lee in 1766. The boundary on the south side was established in 1818. Part of Durham was annexed to Newmarket in 1870. The state college has its home here. Strafford county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-first senatorial districts. Population, 823.

East Kingston was set off from Kingston and incorporated in 1738. The line was established between the two towns in 1740 and re-established in 1798. Part of East Kingston was annexed to South Hampton in 1824 and another part was annexed to Newton in 1845. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-third senatorial districts. Population, 413.

Easton was originally part of Lincoln, then of Landaff, and in 1876 a valley six miles long was set off from Landaff and incorporated. Grafton county, second congressional, first councilor and third senatorial districts. Population, 226.

Eaton was granted in 1760 to Clement March and sixty-five associates; and in 1795 five tracts of land, each of two thousand acres, were annexed. The boundary between Tamworth and Eaton was established in 1796 and revised in 1808. In 1852 the western part of Eaton was set off and incorporated as Madison. Carroll county, first congressional, first councilor and fourth senatorial districts. Population, 380.

Effingham was granted in 1749 in two sections and the charter renewed in 1766, and it was known as "Leavitt's Town" until its incorporation in 1778. "Wakefield Gore" was annexed in 1820, and in that same year part of "Ossipee Gore" was annexed. In 1831 the northern part of Effingham was set off and incorporated as "North Effingham," which later became Freedom. Carroll county, first congressional, first councilor and fourth senatorial districts. Population, 558.

Ellsworth was known as "Trecothick" from the time it was granted in 1769 until its incorporation in 1802. The town was settled in 1790 by Jonathan T. Downing of Gilmanton. Grafton county, second congressional, first councilor and fifth senatorial districts. Population, 53.

Enfield was granted in 1761 and regranted in 1768 as "Relhan." The grant was repealed in 1784. In 1781 a committee was authorized to establish the lines of the town of "Enfield, alias Relhan." The committee's report was adopted in 1802. In 1837 part of Grantham was annexed. Grafton county, second congressional, first councilor and fifth senatorial districts. Population, 1,448.

Epping was part of Exeter until its incorporation in 1741. The boundary between Epping and Lee was established in 1818. One of its residents, William Plumer, was four times elected governor between 1812 and 1818. Epping is a brick-manufacturing center. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-third senatorial districts. Population, 1,649.

Epsom was granted in 1727 to Theodore Atkinson and others. The first meeting of the grantees was held that year in the ferry house at Newcastle, and the first meeting held in Epsom was in 1743. In 1841 a Pittsfield school district and Epsom school district No. 6 were united to form "Republican School District." Merrimack county, first congressional, fifth councilor and fourteenth senatorial districts. Population, 725.

Errol was granted in 1774 to people residing in Salem, Mass., and Danvers, Mass. There were few settlers prior to 1800 and only twenty-six inhabitants in 1820. The town was incorporated in 1836 and the population in 1880 was 161. It is well known for its fishing and hunting. Coos county, second congressional, first councilor and first senatorial districts. Population, 211.

Exeter was settled in 1638 by Rev. John Wheelwright, who received a grant of one hundred and thirty miles north and northwest from the Merrimack river, with the exception of Dover and Portsmouth. This territory had been previously known as "Squamscott Falls," and Reverend Wheelwright gave the name of Exeter to this and all surrounding country when he settled with some twenty or thirty other men. The town became established in 1639 and maintained a system of self-government. Land which now includes the town of Hampton was purchased that same year by Exeter people from the Indians. In 1641 Exeter went under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts and became a part of Norfolk county of Massachusetts Bay colony. Reverend Wheelwright's son, grandson and great grandson were chosen councilors. About 1656 the Massachusetts legislature cut down the territory of Exeter to about one half its original dimensions. At the same time one Thomas Wiggin gave some land on the southern end, one mile wide and three miles long, to the town. Newmarket was set off from Exeter and incorporated in 1727, Brentwood in 1742 and Epping in 1741, so that the town contained less than seventeen square miles, or one twentieth of the original grant or purchase of Wheelwright from the Indians. This is the home of Phillips Exeter academy, the oldest academy in the state. Exeter was the state capital during the Revolution and all sessions of the provincial congress or convention and colonial legislature were held here. The state legislature met here frequently until about 1800. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-third senatorial districts. Population, 4,897.

Farmington was incorporated out of Rochester in 1798. Fourteen years later Henry Wilson, who became vice-president, was born here. It was known previously as "Farmington Dock." Strafford county, first congressional, second councilor and twentieth senatorial districts. Population, 2,621.

Fitzwilliam was granted in 1752 as "Monadnock No. 4," and was incorporated in 1773 as Fitzwilliam. In 1815 four thousand acres in the northern part of the town were set off and incorporated as Troy. The boundary between Fitzwilliam and Rindge was established in 1847. Cheshire county, second congressional, fourth councilor and eleventh senatorial districts. Population, 1,148.

Francestown was granted by the Masonian Proprietors in 1752 and incorporated in 1772 from "New Boston Addition" and a portion of "Society Land." In 1792 part of Greenfield, then known as "Lyndeborough Addition," was annexed, and in 1802 another portion of "Society Land." In 1842 part of the town, together with parts of Deering, Greenfield and Hancock, was incorporated as Bennington. In 1872 part of Greenfield was annexed. Hillsborough county, second congressional, fourth councilor and ninth senatorial districts. Population, 602.

Franconia was granted in 1764 and regranted in 1772. It was known as "Morristown" from the latter date until 1782, when it was changed back to Franconia. The famous natural curiosity, "The Old Man of the Mountain," is in Franconia. Grafton county, second congressional, first councilor and second senatorial districts. Population, 504.

Freedom was formerly the northern part of "Leavitt's Town," which became Effingham in 1778. Freedom was incorporated as "North Effingham" in 1831 and put into Strafford county. The following year the name was changed to Freedom, and in 1840 it was put into the new county of Carroll. First congressional, first councilor and fourth senatorial districts. Population, 542.

Fremont was a part of Brentwood until its incorporation in 1764 as "Poplin." The southern part of "Poplin" was authorized by the legislature of 1783 to join Danville, which was then known as "Hawke." The name of "Poplin" was changed to Fremont in 1854. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-third senatorial districts. Population, 622.

Gilford was originally a part of Gilmanton when that town was formed in 1727 out of "Gunstock Parish." It was settled in 1781 by James Ames and Captain Samuel F. Gilman. In 1812 the legislature, on petition of Moses Rowell and one hundred forty-eight others, set "Gunstock Parish" off and incorporated it into Gilford, a name bestowed upon it by Captain Lemuel B. Mason, a soldier in the Revolution, who fought at the Battle of Gilford Court House in South Carolina, where he derived the name. Six islands in Winnepesaukee lake were annexed in 1826. Part of Gilmanton was annexed in 1851. Part of Gilford was annexed to Laconia in 1874 and part of Laconia to Gilford in 1876. Belknap county, first congressional, second councilor and sixth senatorial districts. Population, 744.

Gilmanton was granted in 1727 by Governor John Wentworth. It was settled in 1761 by Benjamin Mudgett. It was set off from Rockingham county in 1771 and became a part of Strafford county. "Governor's Island" was annexed in 1799. "Gunstock Parish" was set off and incorporated as Gilford in 1812. Gilmanton ranked as the second town in the state in 1827, Londonderry being first. Gilmanton was embraced in the new county of Belknap in 1840. In 1851 part of the town was annexed to Gilford. In 1859 part of the town was set off and incorporated as "Upper Gilmanton," which later became Belmont. First congressional, second councilor and sixth senatorial districts. Population, 968.

Gilsum was granted in 1752 to Joseph Osgood and seventy others as "Boyle." A regrant was made in 1763 to Samuel Gilbert and Thomas Sumner, who settled the place and took the first syllables of their names to form the word Gilsum. Part of Gilsum was combined with part of Westmoreland in 1769 to form the town of Surry. In 1787 part of Gilsum, with other territory, was incorporated into Sullivan. Part of Sullivan was annexed to it in 1874. Cheshire county, second congressional, fourth councilor and tenth senatorial districts. Population, 470.

Goffstown was granted by Massachusetts in 1733 and known as Narragansett No. 4. It was regranted by the Masonian Proprietors in 1748 to Rev. Thomas Parker of Dracut, Mass., and others, and was sometimes called "Shove's-town." It was incorporated in 1761 and named after Col. John Goffe. The charter was renewed in 1763. Part of the town, together with parts of Dunbarton and Chester, went into the incorporation of Hooksett in 1822. Some islands in the Merrimack river were annexed in 1825. Part of New Boston was annexed in 1836. In 1853 the boundary between Dunbarton and Goffstown was established and part of Goffstown was annexed to Manchester. Hillsborough county, first congressional, fourth councilor and fourteenth senatorial districts. Population, 2,579.

Gorham was granted in 1770 to Mark Hunking Wentworth and others and was called "Shelburne Addition." The first settlements were in 1803 by Bezaleel Bennett, who came from Conway (at that time called "Pigwacket") and remained but a short time. Stephen Messer of Andover, Mass., came in 1805 and was the first permanent settler. The Jackson and Goodnow families came two years later, and Joseph Jackson purchased the present site of Gorham Village. The first school was opened in 1832 and the teacher, Miss Salome Mason of "Gilead," received a salary of $1 a week. In 1836 the town was incorporated and the name changed to Gorham. The Atlantic and Saint Lawrence railroad was built to Gorham in 1850 and began running trains the next year. This town is eight hundred twelve feet above sea level and is the nearest village to Mount Washington. There are twelve mountain peaks of an average height of more than five thousand feet, whose bases are within an eight-mile radius. It is a rendezvous of mountain climbers. In 1902 an electric railroad from Gorham to Berlin was built. Coos county, second congressional, first councilor and first senatorial districts. Population, 2,200.

Goshen was erected out of parts of Newbury, Sunapee, Newport, Unity and Lempster and incorporated in 1791. The earliest settlement had been made in 1769. Part of Unity was annexed in 1837. Sullivan county, second congressional, fifth councilor and eighth senatorial districts. Population, 329.

Grafton was granted in 1761 and the grant was surrendered the following year. In 1769 a regrant was made and in 1772 Captain Joseph Hoyt of Fremont made the first settlement. The town was incorporated in 1778. Grafton county, second congressional, first councilor and fifth senatorial districts. Population, 641.

Grantham was granted in 1761 and regranted as New Grantham in 1767. The westerly part of this town and the easterly part of Plainfield were made the parish of Meriden in 1780. In 1788 the town was incorporated as New Grantham, and in 1818 was incorporated as Grantham. A tract of land was severed from Grantham and annexed to Enfield in 1837 and a part was annexed to Cornish in 1844. In 1856 a portion of the town was annexed to Plainfield and in 1858 a part of the gore between Grantham and Springfield was annexed to the town of Grantham. Sullivan county, second congressional, fifth councilor and eighth senatorial districts. Population, 286.

Greenfield was incorporated in 1791 from parts of Peterborough, Lyndeborough, "Society Land" and "Lyndeborough Gore." The first town meeting was called in that year by Daniel Emerson of Hollis. Later in the year the boundaries were established, and in 1792 the two eastern ranges of lots of land, which had been known previous to incorporation as "Lyndeborough Addition," were annexed to Francestown. The first settlements in Greenfield were in 1771 by Captain Alexander Parker, Major A. Whittemore, Simeon Fletcher and others, mostly English and Scotch-Irish, coming from Londonderry, Andover, Mass., Chelmsford, Mass., and Marblehead, Mass. In 1842 part of Greenfield, together with parts of Deering, Francestown and Hancock, was incorporated into Bennington. In 1872 part of Greenfield was annexed to Frances-town. Hillsborough county, second congressional, fourth councilor and twelfth senatorial districts. Population, 574.

Greenland was set off from Portsmouth and established in 1704. In 1721 more of Portsmouth was annexed. Part of Stratham was annexed in 1805 and another part in 1847. The boundaries were fully established in 1859 and 1860. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-fourth senatorial districts. Population, 575.

Greenville was incorporated in 1872 from a part of Mason and the boundaries were established the following year. Part of Greenville was included in the first grant of New Ipswich in 1735 and was settled in 1752. Hillsborough county, second congressional, fourth councilor and twelfth senatorial districts. Population, 1,374.

Groton was granted in 1761 as "Cockermouth," and re-granted in 1766. It was settled in 1770. Part of the town was erected, together with part of Plymouth, into the town of Hebron in 1792. In 1796 the name of "Cockermouth" was changed to Groton, and in 1845 part of Hebron was annexed to it. Grafton county, second congressional, first councilor and fifth senatorial districts. Population, 319.

Hampstead was formerly part of Amesbury, Mass., and Haverhill, Mass., and was known as "Timberlane," and was settled in 1728. It was incorporated as Hampstead in 1749. Part of Atkinson was annexed to it in 1859. In 1877 part of Hampstead was annexed to Danville. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-third senatorial districts. Population, 796.

Hampton was granted by the Massachusetts Colony in 1635 to Rev. Stephen Bachiler and others. It was purchased from the Indians by Exeter people that same year. The original name was "Winnacunnet," which means in Indian, "The Beautiful Place of the Pines." The name Hampton was given at the request of the grantees in 1639. The first settlers in 1638 were Stephen Bachiler, Christopher Hussey, Mary Hussey, Thomas Cromwell, Samuel Skullard, John Osgood, John Cross, Samuel Greenfield, John Molton, Thomas Molton, William Estow, William Palmer, William Sargeant, Richard Swayne, William Sanders, Robert Tucke, with divers others. The town was incorporated in 1639; in 1694 part of the town went to make up Kingston, including East Kingston, Danville and part of Sandown; in 1718 part was set off to make Hampton Falls, including Kensington and part of Seabrook; in 1738 that part of Hampton known as "North Hill Parish" was set off and four years later incorporated as North Hampton. Hampton is on the seacoast and has one of the finest beaches in New England. Its area is eight thousand acres. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-third senatorial districts. Population, 1,215.

Hampton Falls was formerly part of Hampton and in 1685 there were two hundred twelve inhabitants in it. The town was set off from Hampton in 1718 and incorporated in 1726. The western part was set off and incorporated as Kensington in 1737 and the southern part as Seabrook in 1768. Part of Hampton Falls was annexed to Seabrook in 1816. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-third senatorial districts. Population, 552.

Hancock was settled in 1765 by John Grimes and was incorporated in 1779. Part of "Society Land" was annexed in 1794 and part of Antrim in 1849. In 1842 part of the town, together with parts of Deering, Greenfield and Francestown, was incorporated into Bennington. Hillsborough county, second congressional, fourth councilor and eleventh senatorial districts. Population, 642.

Hanover was granted in 1761 to Edmund Freeman, Jr., and settled in 1765 by Col. Edmund Freeman of Mansfield, Conn. Twenty families were living there in log houses when Dartmouth college was chartered and given a grant of part of the town in 1769. Additional grants were given of five hundred acres in 1771 and two thousand in 1775. The legislature met here in 1795. Grafton county, second congressional, first councilor and fifth senatorial districts. Population, 2,075.

Harrisville was incorporated in 1870 from parts of Dublin and Nelson. It was settled in 1762 by Thomas Packer of Portsmouth. Cheshire county, second congressional, fourth councilor and eleventh senatorial districts. Population, 623.

Hart's Location was granted in 1772 to Thomas Chadbourne and included the long valley of the Saco river, from Jackson to the "White Mountain Notch." The "Wiley House" was built in 1792, and in 1826 the "Wiley House Slide" occurred. A gore of land between Hart's Location and Bartlett was annexed in 1861. A small part of the Location was annexed to Bartlett in 1878. Carroll county, first congressional, first councilor and fourth senatorial districts. Population, 85.

Haverhill was originally a favorite Indian resort known as "Lower Coos." It was granted in 1763 to John Hazzen and seventy-four other residents of Haverhill, Mass., and the name was changed on that account. Hazzen had begun a settlement two years previous on a promise of a charter. Other prominent early settlers were John Hurd, John Page, Asa Porter, Ezekiel Ladd, James Woodward and Charles Johnston. Since 1773 the town has been the seat of Grafton county and the principal village in town, known as Woodsville, contains the court house, almshouse and house of correction. Haverhill was divided into two parishes in 1815. Second congressional, first councilor and third senatorial districts. Population, 3,498.

Hebron was incorporated in 1792 from parts of "Cockermouth" and Plymouth. The line between Hebron and Orange was established in 1804 and again in 1808. A part of Hebron was annexed to Plymouth in 1845 and another piece to Groton the same year. Grafton county, second congressional, first councilor and fifth senatorial districts. Population, 213.

Henniker was granted in 1735 to John Whitman and others who resided in Stowe and Marlborough, two Massachusetts towns. In 1752 it was regranted to William Todd and others and sometimes called "Todd's-town." No settlements were made and no name given to the place until 1760, when a number of people came there to live from Marlborough and called it "New Marlborough." Reverend James Scales and James Peters were the first settlers. Three years later, 1763, Eliakim Howe, Amos Gould and Thomas Stone moved there from Marlborough, Jonas Bowman moved from Lexington, Mass.; William Peters, son of the first settler, moved from Hopkinton, and Josiah Ward and family moved from Marlborough. Mrs. Ward was the first white woman who ever came into town over "Craney Hill." Her husband cut a large maple tree to build a log cabin with and she persuaded him to leave a considerable stump, which he did, and for years this stump was their only table. Mr. Ward became a butter-maker and carried his product to Amherst and Nashua ("Dunstable") over a road that has been ever since known as "Butter Road." In 1764 Deacon Ebenezer Hathorn and several families came, and in 1766 many families from Marlborough, Stowe, Danville and Pembroke. In 1768 there were thirty-one families living there, and they got the town incorporated and wanted to name it "New Marlborough," but Governor Wentworth insisted that it be named Henniker in honor of his friend, John Henniker of London, England, a wealthy merchant. The regrant of the town in 1752 made it six miles square, and no territory has ever been annexed to it or severed from it. Merrimack county, second congressional, fifth councilor and ninth senatorial districts. Population, 1,395.

Hill was granted in 1753 to Matthew Thornton and his associates. In 1768 it was settled by Carr Huse and Captain Cutting Favour. In 1778 the town was incorporated and named "New Chester." In 1788 the northern part of the town was incorporated into Bridgewater. In 1808 the boundary between "New Chester" and Danbury was established. In 1819 that part of "New Chester" north of Smith river, together with part of Bridgewater, was incorporated into a new town, which became Bristol later. In 1820 part of Alexandria was annexed to "New Chester," and in 1832 part of "New Chester" was annexed to Wilmot. In 1837 "New Chester" changed its name to Hill. In 1858 part of Hill was annexed to Danbury. In 1868 the town was changed from Grafton county to Merrimack county. Second congressional, fifth councilor and seventh senatorial districts. Population, 556.

Hillsborough was granted in 1735 and regranted in 1748 to John Hill and others, and incorporated in 1772. It is the birthplace of Franklin Pierce, who became President. Hillsborough county, second congressional, fourth councilor and ninth senatorial districts. Population, 2,168.

Hinsdale was granted in 1687 by Chief Nawellet of the Squakheag Indians to the proprietors of the town of Northfield, Mass. This town and Vernon, Vt., continued to be embraced in the Northfield township until 1741, when the Massachusetts-New Hampshire boundary was established, and a tract of land four miles long and one hundred ninety-seven rods wide was cut off from Northfield and put into New Hampshire and named "Fort Dummer." Hinsdale was a part of the grant of Winchester in 1733 by Massachusetts. The charter of the town was issued in 1753, when New Hampshire regranted it to Ebenezer Alexander and his associates, and included territory between the east boundary of Winchester and the Connecticut river. The first settlement was in 1737 by Daniel Shattuck, and other early settlers were Peter Evans, Robert Cooper, John Evans and Colonel Ebenezer Hinsdale. The colonel was the son of a Deerfield woman, who was carried captive to Canada by the Indians. He later became chaplain of Fort Dummer, and himself built Fort Hinsdale in 1742. In the same year of the incorporation the colonel and others petitioned for a division of the town, which was granted; and the western part was renamed Hinsdale after the leading petitioner. For several years Hinsdale embraced territory on both sides of the river, including Vernon. Horrible warfare with Indians was carried on by the settlers. Forts Hinsdale, Dummer and Shattuck were defensive points. A resident of this town, William Haile, was the first governor elected by the Republican party (1857). Cheshire county, second congressional, fourth councilor and eleventh senatorial districts. Population, 1,673.

Holderness was granted in 1751 to John Shepard and others and regranted in 1761 to Major John Wentworth and others. It was originally called "New Holderness" in honor of the Earl of Holderness. In 1782 the town was changed from Strafford to Grafton county. In 1816 the name was changed to Holderness. The southern part of the town was cut off in 1868 and incorporated into Ashland. Second congressional, first councilor and third senatorial districts. Population, 652.

Hollis was originally part of "Dunstable," which was granted by Massachusetts in 1673. It was organized in 1739 as "West Parish of Dunstable" and incorporated as Hollis in 1746. In 1763 "One Pine Hill" was annexed to it. In 1769 the western part of Hollis, together with "Mile Slip," was incorporated into the town of Brookline ("Raby"). Part of Monson was annexed in 1770. Part of "Dunstable" (Nashua) was annexed in 1773, and in 1786 and 1787 parts of Hollis were annexed to Brookline. Hillsborough county, second congressional, fourth councilor and twelfth senatorial districts. Population, 935.

Hooksett was incorporated in 1822 from parts of Chester, Dunbarton and Goffstown. The Chester portion had been known as "Chester Woods" or "White Pine Country." "Hooksett Pinnacle" and the village were known in colonial days as "Hanna-Ko-Kees Hills." In 1853 part of Hooksett was annexed to Allenstown. Merrimack county, first congressional, third councilor and fourteenth senatorial districts. Population, 1,528.

Hopkinton was granted in 1735 as "No. 5" in the "line of towns." The boundaries were established in 1741 and the place was regranted in 1750 to Henry Mellen and others. In 1763 it was granted town privileges, and part of Bow was annexed. It was incorporated in 1765. It was named after Hopkinton, Mass., by John Jones, one of the grantees. It was a shire town of Hillsborough county until Merrimack county was formed in 1823. The legislature met in Hopkinton in 1798, 1801, 1806 and 1807. Merrimack county, second congressional, fifth councilor and ninth senatorial districts. Population, 1,578.

Hudson was part of "Dunstable" in the grant by the government of Massachusetts Bay Colony in 1673. It was incorporated as "Nottingham" in 1722. In 1746 it was incorporated as "Nottingham West," which was changed in 1830 to the name of Hudson. In 1778 part of Londonderry was annexed. The first settlement on the banks of the river in 1710 was by families named Hill, Cummings and Blodgett. Hillsborough county, first congressional, fourth councilor and twenty-second senatorial districts. Population, 1,344.

Jackson was originally made up from a number of state grants that were issued to soldiers who served in the French and Indian wars, and were known as the Wentworth, Treadwell, Gilman, Gridley and Rogers grants; and the first name of the town was "New Madbury." Benjamin Copp made the first settlement in 1778, and for twelve years he and his family lived there alone. In 1790 five other families, Joseph Pinkham, Joseph D. Pinkham, Clement Meserve, Jonathan Meserve and John Young settled there. The Meserves petitioned to have the town incorporated in 1796, 1797, 1799 and 1800, and the fourth request was granted. Upon incorporation the name of the town was changed to "Adams" in honor of John Adams, who was president. In 1806 the state granted three hundred acres of land to the town for school purposes. In 1819 part of the town was annexed to Bartlett, and in 1822 part of Bartlett was annexed to "Adams." The name was changed to Jackson on the Fourth of July in 1829 in honor of Andrew Jackson, who was then president. Part of Bartlett was annexed in 1839. Carroll county, first congressional, first councilor and fourth senatorial districts. Population, 452.

Jaffrey was granted in 1749 by the Masonian Proprietors to Jonathan Hubbard and others, and was known as "Monadnock No. 2," "Middle Monadnock" and "Middletown." The grant was renewed in 1767, and the town was incorporated in 1773 and named Jaffrey in honor of George Jaffrey. Part of Meredith was annexed to Center Harbor in 1873. Belknap county, first congressional, fifth councilor and sixth senatorial districts. Population, 1,800 (estimated).

Merrimack was part of the grant of "Old Dunstable" and was originally named "Naticook" by the Indians. In 1729 the land north of the Souhegan river, a strip three miles wide, was granted to Captain Joseph Blanchard and others. In 1733 these previous grants, lying north of Pennichuck Brook and including a part of "Narragansett No. 5" (now Amherst, granted to the soldiers of King Philip's war) were incorporated into a township and named "Souhegan East." Later the name was changed to "Rumford" and then to "Merrimac." In 1746 the legislature chartered the town and it contained 19,361 acres of land. In 1750 an addition of that part of the town lying north of the Souhegan river was granted. The first settlements in town were in 1722 by the Usher, Hassell, Blanchard, Chamberlain and other families. In this town was discovered and developed the making of "leghorn bonnets" and other grass work, the Misses Burwap engaging in this industry before 1820. Edward Goldstone Lutwyche, a wealthy English gentleman, lived in this town when the Revolution broke out at what was then called "Lutwyche's Ferry," and was a colonel in the army. He joined the British in the Revolution and the state confiscated his estate and changed the name to "Thornton's Ferry," in honor of Matthew Thornton, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, who lived here. Hillsborough county, first congressional, fourth councilor and twelfth senatorial districts. Population, 1,039.

Middleton was granted in 1749 by the Masonian Proprietors to Ebenezer Barney and others and was called "Middletown." The charter was renewed in 1770 and the place incorporated as Middleton in 1778. The northern part of the town, after an unsuccessful attempt in 1785, was severed in 1794 and incorporated into Brookfield. Strafford county, first congressional, second councilor and twentieth senatorial districts. Population, 291.

Milan was granted in 1771 to Sir William Mayne and others and named "Paulsbourg" in honor of Paul Wentworth. It was incorporated as Milan in 1824. Coos county, second congressional, first councilor and first senatorial districts. Population, 924.

Milford was granted by the Massachusetts Colony to officers and soldiers who served the province in the Narragansett war, in the recognition of brave and patriotic deeds. The grants were made during the period from 1728 to 1733. Part of the present Milford was in the small town of "Monson," which was granted by Massachusetts and incorporated in 1746. In 1770 "Monson" was divided between Amherst and Hollis. In 1794 Milford was incorporated out of parts of Hollis, Amherst, "Mile Slip," "Monson," "Souhegan West" and "Duxbury School Farms." It was composed of five parcels of land. The first settlements were in 1740 by William Peabody, John Shepard, Benjamin Hopkins, John Burns, Nathan Hutchinson, Abner Hutchinson, Elisha Towne, Caleb Jones, Andrew Bradford, Captain Josiah Crosby and William Wallace. Part of Milford was annexed to Amherst in 1842 and part of Lyndeborough was annexed to Milford in 1873. Hillsborough county, second congressional, fourth councilor and twelfth senatorial districts. Population, 3,939.

Milton was originally a part of Rochester, known as "Third Parish" or "Northeast Parish," and in 1802 it was set off and incorporated. The first settlement was by Jonathan Twombly, about 1760. The second settler was Richard Walker. Milton Mills was settled about 1785. The town was called during the early settlements "Palmer's Mills" and "Three Ponds." The town furnished eight men for the Revolutionary army, fifty-four for the second war with England and one hundred fifty for the Civil War. In 1858 part of Milton was annexed to Wakefield. Strafford county, first congressional, second councilor and twentieth senatorial districts. Population, 1,542.

"Moultonborough Gore" was annexed in 1765 and Moultonborough was incorporated in 1777. "Long Island" was annexed in 1799. Carroll county, first congressional, first councilor and fourth senatorial districts. Population, 783.

Nelson was granted in 1752 to John Hutchinson and others by the Masonian Proprietors, and was known as "Monadnock No. 6." The grant was renewed in 1767, when the first settlements were made by Breed Batchellor and Nathaniel Breed. The grant was again renewed in 1774, when the town was incorporated and the name changed to "Packersfield" in honor of Thomas Packer. In 1777 an attempt was made to change the name to "Sullivan," but it was unsuccessful, and ten years later, in 1787, the northwestern part of "Packersfield" was incorporated, with other territory, into the town of Sullivan. In 1812 the southwestern corner was combined with other territory to make up the town of Roxbury. In 1814 the name was changed to Nelson in honor of Lord Nelson, the hero of Trafalgar. The line between Nelson and Roxbury was changed in 1820, Nelson losing a small tract. Part of Stoddard was annexed in 1835. In 1870 parts of Nelson and Dublin were made into Harrisville. Cheshire county, second congressional, fourth councilor and tenth senatorial districts. Population, 231.

New Boston was granted in 1735 by Massachusetts Colony to John Simpson and others, who were soldiers in the Canadian expedition of 1690, or their heirs. It was named "Lane's town," and in 1751 it was regranted to Job Lewis and others. The next year an arrangement was made with the Masonian Proprietors by which they relinquished their claim to this territory and in addition gave a large tract to the west. In 1763 the town was incorporated and the name changed to New Boston, after the capital of Massachusetts, and Colonel John Goffe of Bedford called the first town meeting. The western section was called "New Boston Addition" until 1772, when it was incorporated, together with part of "Society Land," into Franchestown. Several of the grantees and early settlers came from Boston, Mass. Part of New Boston, in the northeast corner, was annexed to Goffstown in 1836. In 1887 forty buildings, comprising most of the village, were destroyed by fire. In 1893 the railroad was extended as far as this town. New Boston is the home of the "Molly Stark Gun," of Revolutionary war fame. Hillsborough county, second congressional, fourth councilor and fourteenth senatorial districts. Population, 982.

Newbury was granted in 1753 by the Masonian Proprietors and was called "Dantzic." It was regranted in 1772 to John Fisher and others and incorporated in 1778 under the name of "Fishersfield" in honor of the grantee. The Masonian grant of "Hereford" was included within "Fishersfield." Part of the town in 1791 went with other territory to incorporate Goshen. Part was annexed to Bradford in 1796 and another part in 1859. The name of the town was changed to Newbury in 1837. It was taken from Cheshire county and annexed to Hillsborough county, and later became a part of Merrimack county. Second congressional, fifth councilor and ninth senatorial districts. Population, 402.

Newcastle was a part of Portsmouth and commonly known as "Great Island" until 1693, when it was set off and incorporated as Newcastle. It was probably named for the "castle" on "Great Island," which was officially called Fort William and Mary. The earliest settlers were David Thompson, Shadrach Walton, Captain Walter Neal, George Jaffrey, Theodore Atkinson, Shadrach Bell, John Amazeen, Richard Tarleton, Elias Stileman, James Randall, Nathaniel Fryer, William Seavey, James White, Sampson Sheafe and Francis Tucker. In 1726 part of Newcastle, together with other territory, was incorporated into Rye. The General Assembly or legislature met in Newcastle as early as 1684, and for many years this town was the seat of provincial government, and the residence of the governor is still standing. The first important armed action of the revolutionary patriots took place in Newcastle in 1774, when the "Sons of Liberty," under the command of Major John Sullivan and Captain John Langdon, went to Fort William and Mary (now Fort Constitution) and captured Captain John Cochran and his garrison and carried away one hundred barrels of gunpowder to Durham, and this powder was afterwards used at the Battle of Bunker Hill. In 1791 that part of the town southwest of Little Harbor was annexed to Rye. In 1873 the ancient records of the town, from 1693 to 1726, were discovered in Hertfordshire in England and were returned to the town hall. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-fourth senatorial districts. Population, 624.

New Durham was granted in 1749 by the Masonian Proprietors to Jonathan Chesley and others and was called "Cocheco Township." It was settled by people from Durham, who changed its name to New Durham, and the town was incorporated in 1762. "New Durham Gore" was incorporated as Alton in 1796. Strafford county, first congressional, second councilor and twentieth senatorial districts. Population, 523.

Newfields was originally a part of Exeter and later (1727) of Newmarket. It was one of the four local divisions of Newmarket, those divisions being Newfields, Lamprey River, Piscassic and the Plains. The name of the division known as Newfields was first given in 1681. At that time Edward Hilton, Jr., and his wife, Ann (Dudley) Hilton, sold to John Folsom, Jr., sixteen acres of land, bounded in part by the field of the senior Edward Hilton, commonly called Mr. Hilton's new field. In 1849 the two divisions, Newfield and Piscassic, were incorporated as a town and named "South Newmarket." In 1852 part of the town was annexed to Newmarket and in 1883 part of Newmarket was annexed to South Newmarket. Dr. John M. Brodhead of Washington, D. C., a native of Newfields, died in "South Newmarket" in 1880, and his will contained the following provision: "Ten thousand dollars to the town of South Newmarket, N. H., for the purpose of purchasing books for a town library, to be under the control of the selectmen, under the condition that the name of the town shall be legally changed to Newfields and so remain. On the same condition and for the same purpose I bequeath to said town my private library. Neither of these bequests shall take effect until the name of the town shall have been changed." The name was changed to Newfields in 1895. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-third senatorial districts. Population, 503.

New Hampton was granted in 1765 to Jonathan Moulton and others, the proprietors of Moultonborough, and was named "Moultonborough Addition." The town was incorporated as New Hampton in 1777 and named after Hampton. Part of the town was set off and incorporated as Center Harbor in 1797. Belknap county, first congressional, fifth councilor and fifth senatorial districts. Population, 821.

Newington was a part of Dover, and settlements were made as early as 1670, and the place was commonly known as "Bloody Point." In 1713 it was set off from Dover and made a parish and the following year took the name of Newington. In 1764 it was incorporated. In 1821 part of the town was annexed to Portsmouth. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-fourth senatorial districts. Population, 296.

New Ipswich was granted in 1735 by the Massachusetts Colony to John Wainwright, John Choate and other inhabitants of Ipswich, Mass. It was regranted by the Masonian Proprietors in 1750 to Reuben Kidder and others. It was incorporated in 1762 as "Ipswich" and the name changed to New Ipswich in 1766. The first settlement was in 1738 by Abijah Foster, who had a son, Ebenezer Foster, born there; and they both died of the smallpox while serving as soldiers in the French and Indian war near Crown Point in 1759. The second academy in the state was incorporated in this town in 1789 as "New Ipswich Academy," eight years after Phillips Exeter acadmemy in Exeter. The name of "New Ipswich Academy" was later changed to Appleton academy. This town was originally laid out six miles square, but a piece of "Townsend" was annexed to its eastern side and a mile strip was cut off from its northern side, so that it is now diamond-shaped. In 1900 Governor Frank W. Rollins took part in the celebration of the town's one hundred fiftieth anniversary. Hillsborough county, second congressional, fourth councilor and twelfth senatorial districts. Population, 927.

New London was granted in 1753 by the Masonian Proprietors and named "Heidleburg." It was regranted in 1773 to Jonas Minot and others and the name changed to "Alexandria Addition." In 1779 it was incorporated and the name changed to New London after London, England. Part of "Kearsarge Gore" was annexed in 1793, part of Sunapee in 1804 and another part of Sunapee in 1817. The northern part of New London, together with part of "Kearsarge Gore," was set off and incorporated into Wilmot in 1807. Merrimack county, second congressional, fifth councilor and seventh senatorial districts. Population, 805.

Newmarket was set off from Exeter in 1727 and incorporated as a parish. It was granted town privileges in 1737. The boundary line was changed in 1805, 1807 and 1818. The southern part of the town was set off and incorporated in 1849 as "South Newmarket" (Newfields). Part of "South Newmarket" was annexed in 1852 and part of Durham in 1870. In 1883 part of Newmarket was annexed to "South Newmarket." Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-fourth senatorial districts. Population, 3,348.

Newport was granted in 1753 to Isaac Pennell and others and was called "Grenville." It was regranted in 1761 to Nathaniel Fish and others and incorporated and named after Newport, R. I. Only one of sixty-three grantees was an actual settler. The desirable qualities of the valley of the Sugar river were made known to the people of Killingworth, Conn., by one Eastman, a hunter and trapper, who made expeditions up the Connecticut river. In 1765 and 1766 a family party from Killingworth settled the town, and in 1769 the charter was permanently renewed. Newport sent forty soldiers to the Revolutionary army and twenty to fight in the second war with England. Two hundred and forty men went to the Civil War, and one young resident, Andre Champollion, was killed in the European war in a trench in northern France, March 23, 1915. In 1791 part of Newport, together with parts of Sunapee, Lempster, Newbury and Unity, went into the incorporation of Goshen. Newport was the home of Dexter Richards, who established Richard's High School and Richard's Free Library; Mrs. Sarah J. Hale, the author of "Mary Had a Little Lamb"; Rear Admiral George E. Belknap and Austin Corbin, who established Corbin Park, the largest game preserve in the country. Newport has always been the seat of Sullivan county since its creation in 1827. Sullivan county, second congressional, fifth councilor and eighth senatorial districts. Population, 4,000 (estimated).

Newton was set off from Hampton in 1749 and incorporated and named "Newtown." Captain Josiah Bartlett called the first town meeting. Part of South Hampton was annexed to Newton in 1749, and in 1772 the boundary between these towns was established. Part of East Kingston was annexed in 1845 and the name was changed to Newton in 1846. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-third senatorial districts. Population, 962.

Northfield was set off from Canterbury and incorporated in 1780. It had been settled about twenty years before. Part of Northfield was combined with other territory to make up Franklin in 1828, but the same territory was reannexed to Northfield in 1830 and put back again into Franklin in 1858. Additional land was annexed to Franklin in 1861. Merrimack county, first congressional, fifth councilor and seventh senatorial districts. Population, 1,474.

North Hampton was originally the northern part of Hampton and was probably settled in 1690 by two brothers, Samuel Dearborn and John Dearborn. The house built by the latter is used as a residence to this day. In it was born in 1751 a grandson of the builder, Henry Dearborn, who became senior major general of the army at the outbreak of the second war with England in 1812. The movement to separate the northern part of Hampton began in 1719, but was unsuccessful until 1738, when the parish of "North Hill" was established. Four years later this parish was incorporated as a town and the name changed to North Hampton. The boundary between North Hampton and Rye was established in 1792. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-third senatorial districts. Population, 783.

Northumberland was granted in 1761 to John Hogg and others and was known as "Stonington." It was regranted in 1771 to Daniel Warner and others and in 1779 was incorporated and its name changed to Northumberland after an English town. The first settlements were in 1767 by Thomas Burnside and Daniel Spaulding. Parts of Stark were annexed in 1855 and 1863. Coos county, second congressional, first councilor and second senatorial districts. Population, 2,184.

of Major John Gilman the same year. Part of the town was set off and incorporated into Deerfield in 1766 and another part into Northwood in 1773. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-second senatorial districts. Population, 607.

Orange was granted in 1769 to Isaac Fellows and others and named "Cardigan." In 1779 the inhabitants petitioned to have the town incorporated and named "Bradford"; in 1783, "Middleton"; and in 1789, "Liscomb." In the last petition the word "Liscomb" was crossed out and the name Orange inserted, and the town was incorporated in 1790 as Orange. Part of the town was annexed to Hebron and part of Hebron to Orange in 1804, and the line between the two towns was established in 1808. Part of Orange was annexed to Alexandria in 1820. Grafton county, second congressional, first councilor and fifth senatorial districts. Population, 176.

Orford was granted in 1761 to Jonathan Moulton, Jr., and others. The previous year several inhabitants of Hampton met at the residence of Lieutenant Jonathan Leavitt, an innholder, and petitioned Governor Benning Wentworth for a township on the eastern bank of the Connecticut river at "Sugar River." The governor gave to sixty-three proprietors a deed "unto our loving subjects" for a tract of land six miles square, beginning at the northwestern corner of Lyme and having its western boundary the river. The river townships were numbered after the early forts built as defense against the Indians, and Orford was "No. 7." The name of Orford was after an English town and is the only place in America of that name. The first settlements were made in 1765 by Daniel Cross, General Israel Morey, John Mann and others, who came from Connecticut. The charter was renewed in 1772 and in 1778 the town voted to unite with Vermont. Part of Orford was annexed to Wentworth in 1837. Grafton county, second congressional, first councilor and fifth senatorial districts. Population, 799.

The first settlement was in 1749 by John Kilburn and his family. It was regranted by New Hampshire in 1752 to Benjamin Bellows and others and incorporated with the name Walpole, after an English town. It was sometimes known as "Great Falls" or "Bellows-town." The charter was renewed in 1761. In 1773 Mr. Bellows was given ferry privileges across the Connecticut. In 1783 the right to build a toll bridge at Bellows Falls was granted Colonel Enoch Hale. Part of Walpole, together with part of Charlestown, was incorporated into Langdon in 1787. Cheshire county, second congressional, fourth councilor and tenth senatorial districts. Population, 2,668.

Warner was granted in 1735 by the Massachusetts Colony to Thomas Stevens and others and was known as "No. 1" in the line of towns between the Merrimack and Connecticut rivers. Early settlers came from Amesbury, Mass., and named this place "New Amesbury." In 1749 the Masonian Proprietors regranted the town to Richard Jenness and other inhabitants of Rye, who changed the name to "Jennesstown" and later to "Ryetown." In 1767 it was regranted to Jonathan Barnard and others. In 1774 it was incorporated and the name changed to Warner in honor of Colonel Jonathan Warner of Portsmouth. "Kearsarge Gore" was annexed in 1818. Merrimack county, second congressional, fifth councilor and ninth senatorial districts. Population, 1,226.

Warren was granted in 1763 to John Page and others and named in honor of Admiral Sir Peter Warren of the British Navy. It was incorporated that same year and the charter was renewed, with additional territory, in 1770. The first settlement was in 1767 by Joseph Patch. The boundaries were established in 1784. Grafton county, second congressional, first councilor and fifth senatorial districts. Population, 701.

Washington was granted in 1735 by the Massachusetts Colony and called "No. 8" in the line of towns between the Merrimack and Connecticut rivers. The Masonian Proprietors granted it in 1752 to Captain Peter Prescott and others, and regranted it in 1768 to Reuben Kidder and others. The charter was renewed in 1772. The name was changed from "Monadnock No. 8" to "New Concord," then to "Camden," and finally, in 1776, to Washington, and it was incorporated in honor of George Washington. This was the first town in the country to take the name of the first president. The first settlers in Washington came in 1768 from New Ipswich and other places, some of them from Massachusetts. Among the early settlers whose descendants still live in the town, or did until recently, were Jacob Burbank, Ebenezer Spaulding, David Lowell, Ephraim Severence, John Safford, Samuel Copeland, Jonathan Brockway and Simeon Farnsworth. The town was in Cheshire county until 1827, when it went into the new county of Sullivan. Part of the town, together with "New Bradford" and "Washington Gore," made up the incorporation of Bradford in 1787. The boundary between Washington and Lempster was established in 1812. Sullivan county, second congressional, fifth councilor and eighth senatorial districts. Population, 360.

Waterville was granted as a part of the Gillis and Foss Grant to John Raymond. The first settlement was in 1819 by Moses Foss. In 1829 the town was incorporated as Waterville. Part of it was annexed to Sandwich in 1864. Grafton county, second congressional, first councilor and fourth senatorial districts. Population, 16.

Weare was granted in 1735 by the Massachusetts Colony to Robert Hale on behalf of the soldiers of Captain John Raymond. It was named "Beverly-Canada," later changed to "Halestown." In 1749 the Masonian Proprietors granted the town to Ichabod Robie and others and changed the name to

"Robie's-town," later to "Weare's-town." In 1764 it was incorporated as Weare in honor of Meshech Weare, first governor (president) of the state. The boundary between Weare and Dunbarton was established in 1853. Hillsborough county, second congressional, fourth councilor and fourteenth senatorial districts. Population, 1,325.

Webster was set off from Boscawen and incorporated in 1860. It was named in honor of Daniel Webster. Merrimack county, second congressional, fifth councilor and ninth senatorial districts. Population, 445.

Wentworth was granted in 1766 to John Page and others and incorporated and named in honor of Governor Benning Wentworth. It was regranted in 1772 to Asa Porter and others. Part of Piermont was annexed in 1787 and reunited to Piermont in 1819 and 1822, and part of Orford annexed in 1837. The Union School district of Rumney and Wentworth was established in 1842 and its boundaries defined in 1847. Grafton county, second congressional, first councilor and fifth senatorial districts. Population, 595.

Wentworth's Location became a town in 1881, being the youngest town in the state. Coos county, second congressional, first councilor and first senatorial districts. Population, 51.

Westmoreland was granted in 1735 by the Massachusetts Colony and was known as "No. 2" in the line of towns east of the Connecticut river. It was later called "Great Meadows." In 1752 New Hampshire granted it to Thomas Chamberlain and others, who incorporated it as Westmoreland. The charter was renewed in 1760. The first settlements were in 1741 by Daniel How, Jethro Wheeler, Philip Alexander and Thomas Orissen, who came in canoes from Northfield. For many years the Indians were active in that vicinity. Part of the town, known as "Westmoreland Leg," went into the incorporation of Surry in 1769. Cheshire county, second congressional, fourth councilor and tenth senatorial districts. Population, 758.

Whitefield was granted in 1774 to Josiah Moody and others, who named it "Whitefields." In 1801 the first settlements were made by Colonel Joseph Kimball, Major John Burns and John McMaster. In 1804 it was incorporated and the name changed to Whitefield. The first town meeting was held the following year at the home of Major Burns. In 1824 the postoffice was established and William Dodge was the first postmaster. Coos county, second congressional, first councilor and second senatorial districts. Population, 1,635.

Wilmot was incorporated in 1807 from parts of New London and "Kearsarge Gore." Part of Hill was annexed in 1832. Parts of Wilmot were annexed to Danbury in 1848 and 1878. Merrimack county, second congressional, fifth councilor and seventh senatorial districts. Population, 614.

Wilton was granted in 1749 by the Masonian Proprietors to Thomas Read and others and was known as "No. 2." The first settlements were in 1739 by James Putnam, Ephraim Putnam and John Badger, the last named being a son of an English nobleman. In 1744 a petition signed by several residents, including John Cram, John Dale, Joseph Cram, Jonathan Cram, Ephraim Putnam, Samuel Putnam, Benjamin Cram and John Stephens, was presented to Governor Wentworth, praying for protection against the Indians. The town was surveyed originally as five miles square, divided into ten ranges of twenty lots of land each. Each lot was 160 by 80 rods. In 1762 the town was incorporated and the name changed to Wilton after an English town. In 1768 the tenth range of the town was taken to help make the incorporation of Temple. Ancestors of Reverend Lyman Abbott of New York City, a famous editor and preacher, lived in Wilton as early as 1765, one member of the family inventing a machine for making starch in 1811 and conducting a business in Wilton. The Masonian Proprietors at an unknown date annexed part of Lyndeborough to Wilton. In 1869 a freshet carried away every bridge in town, with mill and dams, and did a damage of $150,000. Hillsborough county, second congressional, fourth councilor and twelfth senatorial districts. Population, 1,490.

Winchester was granted in 1733 by the Massachusetts Colony to Josiah Willard and others, and was first called "Earlington." Later, for some cause yet undiscovered, the name was changed to "Arlington," which later was changed to "Winchester," after an English city, from which some of the ancestors of the grantees are said to have come. As originally granted, the township was of the contents of six miles square, and it was shaped like the block letter L, and "lay to the eastward and northward of Northfield." Its southeastern corner was established practically as it now is, while its northwestern corner was at the Connecticut river, where Brattleboro, Vt., now is, and at the present corner of Hinsdale and Chesterfield at this point. In 1744 "the New Province line" was established between Massachusetts and New Hampshire. This line severed from Winchester about two thousand acres, which later became a part of Warwick, Mass., and divided the township of Northfield nearly in the middle, leaving a portion in each province. In 1753 New Hampshire granted to Josiah Willard and his associates all that territory lying between Winchester's east line and the Connecticut river, under the name of Winchester, with the proviso that the township so incorporated might be divided. This provision was promptly (in the same year) acted upon; and upon the petition of Col. Ebenezer Hinsdale and others the township of Hinsdale was set off. The southwesterly corner of Winchester was fixed at a point in the New Province line eighty rods eastwardly from the Connecticut river, and thence Winchester's westerly line ran due north, "by the needle," till it intersected the original east and west line on the north boundary. By this, Winchester received a large portion of the old Northfield grant on its southwest corner and lost a considerable area on its northwesterly border. This allotment of territory continued unchanged for ninety-seven years. In 1850 a small triangular corner was taken from the northwest corner of Richmond and annexed to Winchester. Cheshire county, second congressional, fourth councilor and eleventh senatorial districts. Population, 2,282.

Windham was set off from Londonderry and incorporated in 1741 and named after an English town. The first grant of land in what is now Windham was one of five hundred acres made by the legislature of Massachusetts to Rev. Thomas Cobbett of Ipswich, Mass., in 1662. The exact location is not known, but it was on the shore of what is now Cobbett's Pond. The first settlement was made about 1720. John Waddell occupied the first house. David Gregg and Alexander McCoy settled the following year. The line between Windham and Salem was established in 1752, part of Windham being annexed to Salem. Part of Londonderry was annexed in 1777 and another part the following year. The line between Londonderry and Windham was established in 1782 and an additional part of Londonderry was annexed in 1805. Rockingham county, first congressional, third councilor and twenty-second senatorial districts. Population, 656.

Windsor was formerly known as "Campbell's Gore," and in 1797 "Wheeler's Gore" was annexed to it. The next year the town was incorporated and the name changed to Windsor after an English town. It is one of the smallest towns, both in area and population. Hillsborough county, second congressional, fourth councilor and ninth senatorial districts. Population, 24.

Wolfeboro was granted in 1759 by the Masonian Proprietors to William E. Treadwell and others. This grant was taken from a large tract of land called "Kingswood" and named "Wolfborough" in honor of General Wolfe, the hero of Quebec. Nearly a century afterwards, by special act of congress, the spelling was changed to Wolfeboro. Four additions have since been made to the town on the sides now bounded by towns of Alton, Wakefield and Tuftonboro. Wolfeboro was incorporated in 1770. Not until 1768 were there any permanent inhabitants. Among the early settlers were Benjamin Blake, William Fullerton, Ruben Libby, Ebenezer Meader, Thomas Piper and Henry Rust. In 1858 a small part of Tuftonboro was annexed. Wolfeboro was the summer home of John Wentworth, the last provincial governor, and he did much for this new settlement. The foundations of his commodious mansion still remain and are visited by tourists. Brewster Free academy, a preparatory school of recognized standing, is located in Wolfeboro. Carroll county, first congressional, first councilor and fourth senatorial districts. Population, 2,224.

Woodstock was granted in 1763 to Eli Demerit and others and incorporated with the name "Peeling." It was regranted in 1771 to Nathaniel Cushman and others and the name changed to "Fairfield." In 1840 the name was changed to Woodstock. Grafton county, second congressional, first councilor and third senatorial districts. Population, 1,083.

UNINCORPORATED PLACES.

In 1831 the legislature authorized the governor and council to appoint a land commissioner to sell the public lands, and James Willey of Conway was appointed to that office. The following is a list of all the grants that have been made.

Bean's Grant was made by Commissioner Willey to Charles Bean of Maine in 1835 and it contained about 3,300 acres.

Bean's Purchase was made by Commissioner Willey to Alpheus Bean of Bartlett in 1832 for $1,023 and contained about 33,000 acres.

Cambridge was granted in 1773 by King George the Third to Nathaniel Rogers and others and contained about 23,160 acres.

Chandler's Purchase was made by Commissioner Willey to Jeremiah Chandler of Conway in 1835 for $300 and contained about 10,000 acres.

Crawford's Purchase was made by Commissioner Willey to Thomas Abbott, Nathaniel Abbott and Ethan A. Crawford in 1834 for $8,000 and contained about 15,712 acres.

Cutt's Grant was made by the legislature to Thomas Cutts of Maine in 1810.

Dixville was granted by the legislature to Timothy Dix, Jr., in 1805 and contained about 29,340 acres and the price was $4,500.

Dix's Grant was made by the legislature to Timothy Dix, Jr., in 1809.

Erving's Grant was made by King George Third to William Erving of Boston, a captain in the French and Indian war, in 1775 and contained about 3,468 acres.

Green's Grant was made by King George Third to Francis Green of Boston, a lieutenant in the French and Indian war, in 1774 and contained about 2,032 acres.

Gilmanton and Atkinson Academy Grant was made by the legislature to Gilmanton academy and Atkinson academy in equal shares in 1809 and contained about 13,000 acres.

Hadley's Purchase was sold by Commissioner Willey to Henry G. Hadley of Eugene City, Oregon, in 1834 and contained about 8,371 acres. The price was $500.

Kilkenny was granted by King George Third to Jonathan Warner and many others in 1774 and contained about 26,911 acres.

Low and Burbank's Grant was made by the legislature through State Treasurer Abner B. Kelly to Clovis Low of Jefferson and Barker Burbank of Shelburne in 1832.

Martin's Location was granted by King George Third to Thomas Martin of Portsmouth, a conductor of artillery stores in the French and Indian war, in 1773 and contained about 2,000 acres.

Millsfield was granted by King George the Third to George Boyd and others in 1774 and was named in honor of Thomas Mills. It contained about 23,200 acres.

Odell was sold by Commissioner Willey to Richard Odell of Conway in 1834 and contained about 23,751 acres. The price was $1,863.

Pinkham's Grant was made by the legislature to Daniel Pinkham in 1835.

Sargent's Purchase was sold by Commissioner Willey to Jacob Sargent of Thornton and others for $300.

Second College Grant was made by the legislature to Dartmouth college in 1807 and contained a tract six miles square.

Success was granted by King George Third in 1773 and contained about 30,472 acres. The grantees were Benjamin Mackay and about seventy others.

Thompson and Meserve's Purchase was sold by Commissioner Willey to Samuel W. Thompson of Conway and George P. Meserve of Jackson in 1835 for $500 and contained about 12,000 acres.

Hale's Location was granted by King George Third to Samuel Hale of Portsmouth in 1771 and contained about 1,215 acres.

NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE FLAG.

The state flag was adopted in 1909 by act of the legislature (chapter 16, Laws of 1909). The body or field of the flag is blue and bears upon its center in suitable proportion and colors a representation of the state seal. The motto on the flag includes the date 1784, when the government was established. The seal is surrounded by a wreath of laurel leaves with nine stars interspersed.

The flag is displayed above the state house when the legislature is in session and during meetings of the executive council and upon such other occasions as the governor designates.

THE STATE HOUSE.

The seat of government is at the state house in Concord and has been for over 110 years although the present capitol building is only 105 years old and has been twice remodelled. Twice have strenuous efforts been made to remove the capitol to Manchester, the largest city in the state.

During the Revolutionary war the seat of government was at Exeter and all the sessions of the provincial congress or convention and the colonial house of representatives were held in that academic town. The first six sessions of the state legislature assembled at Exeter also. In 1777 the legislature met at Portsmouth for a change and again in 1780, but all the other meetings took place at Exeter until 1782, when Concord became the capitol. From then until 1807 the legislature met at various places, including Concord, Exeter, Portsmouth, Hopkinton, Charlestown, Dover and Amherst. Concord sessions in those days and in the later period from 1807 to 1819 took place in the old town house that stood on the site of the Merrimack county building of today.

The state house was built in 1816 to 1819 and cost $82,000. The lot of land, consisting of about two acres, was given by the town and the stone for the building was taken out of "Rattlesnake Hill" and dressed by convicts at the state prison. At the first legislature that sat in it there were twelve senators and one hundred and ninety-four representatives.

During the Civil War the state house was too small to accommodate the legislature and officials. Manchester offered to build a new one to cost $500,000 and give it to the state for the honor of becoming the seat of government and one of the greatest and closest battles in the history of the legislature was fought over this proposition. Manchester was defeated and instead of moving, the state decided to enlarge and remodel the old building, which was done in 1864-66.

The building was remodelled after the architecture of the Hotel Des Invalides in Paris and from that day to this it has been regarded as one of the most meritorious structures from an architectural viewpoint that there is in the country. The government outgrew the building again in 1909 so that an addition was built on, which placed the state house in its present form. Before the addition was made Manchester made its second attempt to become the capitol by offering $1,000,000 to build a new building. The struggle between the two cities was fought all over again with the same result, that Concord won.

The cost of the first remodelling of the building was about $200,000, and of the second, $400,000. It is not probable that further changes in the building will be made for many years, the accommodations now being ample for legislature and officials.

One of the interesting attractions in the state house is the gallery of portraits in the principal offices and corridors. These portraits are of famous sons of the state, including the heroes of civil and military life, former governors, senators, secretaries of state and others.

STATISTICAL SECTION.

The following tables give the state's population by cities and towns as shown by the state census in 1775 and the United States censuses 1790-1910, and the number of representatives of each town returned to the general court in 1784, and at each decennial period, 1791-1911. This table includes only existing towns. Each town is entered under the county to which it now belongs. If at the date of any census it belonged to another county this fact is indicated in the population column.

In the representative column * stands for classed town and † for a town sending a representative "a proportionate part of the time." A blank in this column signifies that in the given year the town failed to return a representative.

The population and political statistics of New Hampshire are presented in tables made up for census and legislative records. Page 76 illustrates the growth of the larger communities, page 77 the growth by counties.

CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE, 1916.

PART FIRST.

BILL OF RIGHTS.

ARTICLE 1. All men are born equally free and independent; therefore all government of right originates from the people, is founded in consent, and instituted for the general good.

ART. 2. All men have certain natural, essential, and inherent rights, among which are the enjoying and defending life and liberty, acquiring, possessing and protecting property, and, in a word, of seeking and obtaining happiness.

ART. 3. When men enter into a state of society they surrender up some of their natural rights to that society in order to insure the protection of others; and, without such an equivalent, the surrender is void.

ART. 4. Among the natural rights, some are in their very nature unalienable, because no equivalent can be given or received for them. Of this kind are the rights of conscience.

ART. 5. Every individual has a natural and unalienable right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience and reason; and no subject shall be hurt, molested or restrained, in his person, liberty or estate, for worshiping God in the manner and season most agreeable to the dictates of his own conscience, or for his religious profession, sentiments or persuasion, provided he doth not disturb the public peace or disturb others in their religious worship.

ART. 6. As morality and piety, rightly grounded on evangelical principles, will give the best and greatest security to government, and will lay in the hearts of men the strongest obligations to due subjection, and as the knowledge of these is most likely to be propagated through a society by the institution of the public worship of the DEITY and of public instruction in morality and religion, therefore, to promote these important purposes, the people of this state have a right to empower, and do hereby fully empower, the legislature to authorize, from time to time, the several towns, parishes, bodies corporate, or religious societies within this state to make adequate provision, at their own expense, for the support and maintenance of public Protestant teachers of piety, religion, and morality. Provided, notwithstanding, that the several towns, parishes, bodies corporate or religious societies shall at all times have the exclusive right of electing their own public teachers, and of contracting with them for their support and maintenance. And no person of any one particular religious sect or denomination shall ever be compelled to pay towards the support of the teacher or teachers of another persuasion, sect or denomination. And every denomination of Christians, demeaning themselves quietly and as good subjects of the state, shall be equally under the protection of the law; and no subordination of any one sect or denomination to another shall ever be established by law. And nothing herein shall be understood to affect any former contracts made for the support of the ministry; but all such contracts shall remain and be in the same state as if this constitution had not been made.

ART. 7. The people of this state have the sole and exclusive right of governing themselves as a free, sovereign, and independent state, and do, and forever hereafter shall, exercise and enjoy every power, jurisdiction, and right pertaining thereto which is not or may not hereafter be by them expressly delegated to the United States of America in congress assembled.

ART. 8. All power residing originally in, and being derived from, the people, all the magistrates and officers of government are their substitutes and agents, and at all times accountable to them.

ART. 9. No office or place whatsoever in government shall be hereditary, the abilities and integrity requisite in all not being transmissible to posterity or relations.

ART. 10. Government being instituted for the common benefit, protection, and security of the whole community, and not for the private interest or emolument of any one man, family, or class of men, therefore, whenever the ends of government are perverted and public liberty manifestly endangered, and all other means of redress are ineffectual, the people may, and of right ought to, reform the old or establish a new government. The doctrine of non-resistance against arbitrary power and oppression is absurd, slavish, and destructive of the good and happiness of mankind.

ART. 11. All elections ought to be free; and every inhabitant of the state, having the proper qualifications, has equal right to elect and be elected into office; but no person shall have the right to vote, or be eligible to office under the constitution of this state, who shall not be able to read the constitution in the English language, and to write, provided however, that this provision shall not apply to any person prevented by a physical disability from complying with its requisitions, nor to any person who now has the right to vote, nor to any person who shall be sixty years of age or upwards on the first day of January, A. D. 1904, and provided further, that no person shall have the right to vote, or be eligible to office under the constitution of this state who shall have been convicted of treason, bribery, or any wilful violation of the election laws of this state or of the United States; but the Supreme Court may, on notice to the attorney-general restore the privileges of an elector to any person who may have forfeited them by conviction of such offenses.

ART. 12. Every member of the community has a right to be protected by it in the enjoyment of his life, liberty and property. He is, therefore, bound to contribute his share in the expense of such protection, and to yield his personal service, when necessary, or an equivalent. But no part of a man's property shall be taken from him or applied to public uses without his own consent or that of the representative body of the people. Nor are the inhabitants of this state controllable by any other laws than those to which they or their representative body have given their consent.

ART. 13. No person who is conscientiously scrupulous about the lawfulness of bearing arms shall be compelled thereto, provided he will pay an equivalent.

ART. 14. Every subject of this state is entitled to a certain remedy, by having recourse to the laws, for all injuries he may receive in his person, property or character; to obtain right and justice, freely, without being obliged to purchase it; completely and without any denial; promptly, and without delay; conformably to the laws.

ART. 15. No subject shall be held to answer for any crime or offense until the same is fully and plainly, substantially and formally, described to him, or be compelled to accuse or furnish evidence against himself. And every subject shall have a right to produce all proofs that may be favorable to himself, to meet the witnesses against him face to face, and to be fully heard in his defense by himself and counsel. And no subject shall be arrested, imprisoned, despoiled, or deprived of his property, immunities, or privileges, put out of the protection of the law, exiled or deprived of his life, liberty, or estate, but by the judgment of his peers or the law of the land.

ART. 16. No subject shall be liable to be tried, after an acquittal, for the same crime or offense; nor shall the legislature make any law that shall subject any person to a capital punishment (excepting for the government of the army and navy, and the militia in actual service) without trial by jury.

ART. 17. In criminal prosecutions, the trial of facts in the vicinity where they happen is so essential to the security of the life, liberty, and estate of the citizen, that no crime or offense ought to be tried in any other county than that in which it is committed, except in cases of general insurrection in any particular county, when it shall appear to the judges of the superior court that an impartial trial cannot be had in the county where the offense may be committed, and, upon their report, the legislature shall think proper to direct the trial in the nearest county in which an impartial trial can be obtained.

ART. 18. All penalties ought to be proportioned to the nature of the offense. No wise legislature will affix the same punishment to the crimes of theft, forgery, and the like, which they do to those of murder and treason. Where the same undistinguishing severity is exerted against all offenses, the people are led to forget the real distinction in the crimes themselves and to commit the most flagrant with as little compunction as they do the lightest offenses. For the same reason, a multitude of sanguinary laws is both impolitic and unjust, the true design of all punishments being to reform, not to exterminate, mankind.

ART. 19. Every subject hath a right to be secure from all unreasonable searches and seizures of his person, his houses, his papers, and all his possessions. Therefore, all warrants to search suspected places or arrest a person for examination or trial, in prosecutions for criminal matters, are contrary to this right, if the cause or foundation of them be not previously supported by oath or affirmation, and if the order, in a warrant to a civil officer, to make search in suspected places or to arrest one or more suspected persons or to seize their property, be not accompanied with a special designation of the person or object of search, arrest, or seizure; and no warrant ought to be issued but in cases and with the formalities prescribed by law.

ART. 20. In all controversies concerning property and in all suits between two or more persons, except in cases in which it has been heretofore otherwise used and practiced, and except in cases in which the value in controversy does not exceed one hundred dollars and title of real estate is not concerned, the parties have a right to trial by jury; and this method of procedure shall be held sacred, unless, in cases arising on the high seas and such as relate to mariners' wages, the legislature shall think it necessary hereafter to alter it.

ART. 21. In order to reap the fullest advantage of the inestimable privilege of trial by jury, great care ought to be taken that none but qualified persons should be appointed to serve; and such ought to be fully compensated for their travel, time, and attendance.

ART. 22. The liberty of the press is essential to the security of freedom in a state; it ought, therefore, to be inviolably preserved.

ART. 23. Retrospective laws are highly injurious, oppressive, and unjust. No such laws, therefore, should be made, either for the decision of civil causes or the punishment of offenses.

ART. 24. A well-regulated militia is the proper, natural, and sure defense of a state.

ART. 25. Standing armies are dangerous to liberty, and ought not to be raised or kept up without the consent of the legislature.

ART. 26. In all cases and at all times, the military ought to be under strict subordination to, and governed by, the civil power.

ART. 27. No soldier, in time of peace, shall be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; and, in time of war, such quarters ought not to be made but by the civil magistrate, in a manner ordained by the legislature.

ART. 28. No subsidy, charge, tax, impost, or duty shall be established, fixed, laid, or levied, under any pretext whatsoever, without the consent of the people or their representatives in the legislature, or authority derived from that body.

ART. 29. The power of suspending the laws or the execution of them ought never to be exercised but by the legislature, or by authority derived therefrom, to be exercised in such particular cases only as the legislature shall expressly provide for.

ART. 30. The freedom of deliberation, speech, and debate in either house of the legislature is so essential to the rights of the people, that it cannot be the foundation of any action, complaint, or prosecution in any other court or place whatsoever.

ART. 31. The legislature shall assemble for the redress of public grievances and for making such laws as the public good may require.

ART. 32. The people have a right, in an orderly and peaceable manner, to assemble and consult upon the common good, give instructions to their representatives, and to request of the legislative body, by way of petition or remonstrance, redress of the wrongs done them, and of the grievances they suffer.

ART. 33. No magistrate or court of law shall demand excessive bail or sureties, impose excessive fines or inflict cruel or unusual punishments.

ART. 34. No person can in any case be subjected to law martial or to any pains or penalties by virtue of that law, except those employed in the army or navy, and except the militia in actual service, but by authority of the legislature.

ART. 35. It is essential to the preservation of the rights of every individual, his life, liberty, property, and character, that there be an impartial interpretation of the laws and administration of justice. It is the right of every citizen to be tried by judges as impartial as the lot of humanity will admit. It is, therefore, not only the best policy, but for the security of the rights of the people, that the judges of the supreme judicial court should hold their offices so long as they behave well, subject, however, to such limitations on account of age as may be provided by the constitution of the state; and that they should have honorable salaries, ascertained and established by standing laws.

ART. 36. Economy being a most essential virtue in all states, especially in a young one, no pension should be granted but in consideration of actual services; and such pensions ought to be granted with great caution by the legislature, and never for more than one year at a time.

ART. 37. In the government of this state, the three essential powers thereof—to wit, the legislative, executive, and judicial—ought to be kept as separate from, and independent of, each other as the nature of a free government will admit or as is consistent with that chain of connection that binds the whole fabric of the constitution in one indissoluble bond of union and amity.

ART. 38. A frequent recurrence to the fundamental principles of the constitution and a constant adherence to justice, moderation, temperance, industry, frugality, and all the social virtues, are indispensably necessary to preserve the blessings of liberty and good government. The people ought, therefore, to have a particular regard to all those principles in the choice of their officers and representatives; and they have a right to require of their lawgivers and magistrates an exact and constant observance of them in the formation and execution of the laws necessary for the good administration of government.

PART SECOND.

FORM OF GOVERNMENT.

ARTICLE 1. The people inhabiting the territory formerly called The Province of New Hampshire do hereby solemnly and mutually agree with each other to form themselves into a free, sovereign, and independent body politic, or state, by the name of THE STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

GENERAL COURT.

ART. 2. The supreme legislative power within this state shall be vested in the senate and house of representatives, each of which shall have a negative on the other.

ART. 3. The senate and house shall assemble biennially, on the first Wednesday of January and at such other times as they may judge necessary, and shall dissolve and be dissolved seven days next preceding the said first Wednesday of January biennially, and shall be styled THE GENERAL COURT OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

ART. 4. The general court shall forever have full power and authority to erect and constitute judicatories and courts of record or other courts, to be holden in the name of the state, for the hearing, trying, and determining all manner of crimes, offenses, pleas, processes, complaints, actions, causes, matters, and things whatsoever, arising or happening within this state, or between or concerning persons inhabiting, or residing, or brought within the same, or whether the same be criminal or civil, or whether the crimes be capital or not capital, and whether the said pleas be real, personal, or mixed, and for the awarding and issuing execution thereon; to which courts and judicatories are hereby given and granted full power and authority, from time to time, to administer oaths or affirmations for the better discovery of truth in any matter in controversy or depending before them.

ART. 5. And, further, full power and authority are hereby given and granted to the said general court, from time to time to make, ordain, and establish all manner of wholesome and reasonable orders, laws, statutes, ordinances, directions, and instructions, either with penalties or without, so as the same be not repugnant or contrary to this constitution, as they may judge for the benefit and welfare of this state and for the governing and ordering thereof and of the subjects of the same, for the necessary support and defense of the government thereof; and to name and settle biennially, or provide by fixed laws for the naming and settling all civil officers within this state, such officers excepted the election and appointment of whom are hereafter in this form of government otherwise provided for; and to set forth the several duties, powers, and limits of the several civil and military officers of this state, and the forms of such oaths or affirmations as shall be respectively administered unto them for the execution of their several offices and places, so as the same be not repugnant or contrary to this constitution; and, also, to impose fines, mulcts, imprisonments, and other punishments; and to impose and levy proportional and reasonable assessments, rates, and taxes upon all the inhabitants of, and residents within, the said state, and upon all estates within the same, to be issued and disposed of by warrant, under the hand of the governor of this state for the time being, with the advice and consent of the council, for the public service, in the necessary defense and support of the government of this state and the protection and preservation of the subjects thereof, according to such acts as are or shall be in force within the same. Provided, that the general court shall not authorize any town to loan or give its money or credit, directly or indirectly, for the benefit of any corporation having for its object a dividend of profits, or in any way aid the same by taking its stock or bonds.

ART. 6. The public charges of government or any part thereof may be raised by taxation upon polls, estates, and other classes of property, including franchises and property when passing by will or inheritance; and there shall be a valuation of the estates within the state taken anew once in every five years, at least, and as much oftener as the general court shall order.

ART. 7. No member of the general court shall take fees, be of counsel or act as advocate in any cause before either branch of the legislature; and, upon due proof thereof, such member shall forfeit his seat in the legislature.

ART. 8. The doors of the galleries of each house of the legislature shall be kept open to all persons who behave decently, except when the welfare of the state, in the opinion of either branch, shall require secrecy.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

ART. 9. There shall be, in the legislature of this state, a representation of the people, biennially elected, and founded upon principles of equality, and, in order that such representation may be as equal as circumstances will admit, every town, or place entitled to town privileges, and wards of cities having six hundred inhabitants by the last general census of the state, taken by authority of the United States, or of this state, may elect one representative; if eighteen hundred such inhabitants, may elect two representatives; and so proceeding in that proportion, making twelve hundred such inhabitants the mean increasing number for any additional representative: provided, that no town shall be divided or the boundaries of the wards of any city so altered as to increase the number of representatives to which such town or city may be entitled by the next preceding census; and provided, further, that, to those towns and cities which since the last census have been divided or had their boundaries or ward lines changed, the general court, in session next before these amendments shall take effect, shall equitably apportion representation in such manner that the number shall not be greater than it would have been had no such division or alteration been made.

ART. 10. Whenever any town, place, or city ward shall have less than six hundred such inhabitants, the general court shall authorize such town, place or ward to elect and send to the general court a representative such proportionate part of the time as the number of its inhabitants shall bear to six hundred; but the general court shall not authorize any such town, place or ward to elect and send such representative, except as herein provided.

ART. 11. The members of the house of representatives shall be chosen biennially, in the month of November, and shall be the second branch of the legislature.

ART. 12. All persons qualified to vote in the election of senators shall be entitled to vote, within the district where they dwell, in the choice of representatives.

ART. 13. Every member of the house of representatives shall be chosen by ballot, and, for two years, at least, next preceding his election, shall have been an inhabitant of this state: shall be, at the time of his election, an inhabitant of the town, parish, or place he may be chosen to represent; and shall cease to represent such town, parish, or place immediately on his ceasing to be qualified as aforesaid.

ART. 14. The presiding officers of both houses of the legislature shall severally receive out of the state treasury as compensation in full for their services, for the term elected, the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, and all other members thereof seasonably attending and not departing without license, the sum of two hundred dollars, exclusive of mileage: provided, however, that when a special session shall be called by the governor, such officers and members shall receive for attendance an additional compensation of three dollars per day for a period not exceeding fifteen days, and the usual mileage.

ART. 15. All intermediate vacancies in the house of representatives may be filled up from time to time in the same manner as biennial elections are made.

ART. 16. The house of representatives shall be the grand inquest of the state, and all impeachments made by them shall be heard and tried by the senate.

ART. 17. All money bills shall originate in the house of representatives, but the senate may propose or concur with amendments, as on other bills.

ART. 18. The house of representatives shall have power to adjourn themselves, but no longer than two days at a time.

ART. 19. A majority of the members of the house of representatives shall be a quorum for doing business, but, when less than two thirds of the representatives elected shall be present, the assent of two thirds of those members shall be necessary to render their acts and proceedings valid.

ART. 20. No member of the house of representatives or senate shall be arrested or held to bail on mesne process during his going to, returning from, or attendance upon, the court.

ART. 21. The house of representatives shall choose their own speaker, appoint their own officers, and settle the rules of proceedings in their own house, and shall be judge of the returns, elections, and qualifications of its members, as pointed out in this constitution. They shall have authority to punish by imprisonment every person who shall be guilty of disrespect to the house, in its presence, by any disorderly and contemptuous behavior, or by threatening or ill treating any of its members, or by obstructing its deliberations; every person guilty of a breach of its privileges in making arrests for debt, or by assaulting any member during his attendance at any session; in assaulting or disturbing any one of its officers in the execution of any order or procedure of the house; in assaulting any witness or other person ordered to attend by, and during his attendance of, the house, or in rescuing any person arrested by order of the house, knowing them to be such.

ART. 22. The senate, governor, and council shall have the same powers in like cases, provided, that no imprisonment by either for any offense exceed ten days.

ART. 23. The journals of the proceedings and all public acts of both houses of the legislature shall be printed and published immediately after every adjournment or prorogation, and, upon motion made by any one member, the yeas and nays upon any question shall be entered on the journal, and any member of the senate or house of representatives shall have a right, on motion made at the time for that purpose, to have his protest or dissent, with the reasons, against any vote, resolve, or bill passed, entered on the journal.

SENATE.

ART. 24. The senate shall consist of twenty-four members, who shall hold their office for two years from the first Wednesday of January next ensuing their election.

ART. 25. And, that the state may be equally represented in the senate, the legislature shall, from time to time, divide the state into twenty-four districts, as nearly equal as may be without dividing towns and unincorporated places; and, in making this division, they shall govern themselves by the proportion of direct taxes paid by the said districts, and timely make known to the inhabitants of the state the limits of each district.

ART. 26. The free holders and other inhabitants of each district qualified as in this constitution is provided, shall, biennially give in their votes for a senator at some meeting holden in the month of November.

ART. 27. The senate shall be the first branch of the legislature, and the senators shall be chosen in the following manner, viz.: every male inhabitant of each town, and parish with town privileges, and places unincorporated, in this state, of twenty-one years of age and upward, excepting paupers and persons excused from paying taxes at their own request, shall have a right, at the biennial or other meetings of the inhabitants of said towns and parishes, to be duly warned and holden biennially, forever, in the month of November, to vote, in the town or parish wherein he dwells, for the senator in the district whereof he is a member.

ART. 28. Provided, nevertheless, that no person shall be capable of being elected a senator who is not of the age of thirty years, and who shall not have been an inhabitant of this state for seven years immediately preceding his election; and, at the time thereof, he shall be an inhabitant of the district for which he shall be chosen.

ART. 29. And every person qualified as the constitution provides shall be considered an inhabitant, for the purpose of electing and being elected into any office or place within this state, in the town, parish, and plantation where he dwelleth and hath his home.

ART. 30. And the inhabitants of plantations and places unincorporated, qualified as this constitution provides, who are or shall be required to assess taxes upon themselves towards the support of government, or shall be taxed therefor, shall have the same privilege of voting for senators, in the plantations and places wherein they reside, as the inhabitants of the respective towns and parishes aforesaid have. And the meetings of such plantations and places, for that purpose, shall be holden biennially in the month of November, at such places respectively therein as the assessors thereof shall direct; which assessors shall have like authority for notifying the electors, collecting and returning the votes, as the selectmen and town clerks have in their several towns by this constitution.

ART. 31. The meetings for the choice of governor, council, and senators shall be warned by warrant from the selectmen, and governed by a moderator, who shall, in the presence of the selectmen (whose duty it shall be to attend), in open meeting, receive the votes of all the inhabitants of such towns and parishes present and qualified to vote for senators; and shall, in said meetings, in presence of the said selectmen and of the town clerk in said meetings, sort and count the said votes, and make a public declaration thereof, with the name of every person voted for and the number of votes for each person; and the town clerk shall make a fair record of the same, at large, in the town book, and shall make out a fair attested copy thereof, to be by him sealed up and directed to the secretary of the state, with a superscription expressing the purport thereof; and the said town clerk shall cause such attested copy to be delivered to the sheriff of the county in which said town or parish shall lie thirty days, at least, before the first Wednesday of January, or to the secretary of the state at least twenty days before the said first Wednesday of January; and the sheriff of each county or his deputy shall deliver all such certificates by him received into the secretary's office at least twenty days before the first Wednesday of January.

ART. 32. And, that there may be a due meeting of senators on the first Wednesday of January, biennially, the governor and a majority of the council for the time being shall, as soon as may be, examine the returned copies of such records, and, fourteen days before the first Wednesday of January, he shall issue his summons to such persons as appear to be chosen senators by a plurality of votes to attend and take their seats on that day: provided, nevertheless, that, for the first year, the said returned copies shall be examined by the president and a majority of the council then in office; and the said president shall, in like manner, notify the persons elected to attend and take their seats accordingly.

ART. 33. And in case there shall not appear to be a senator elected by a plurality of votes for any district, the deficiency shall be supplied in the following manner, viz.: the members of the house of representatives and such senators as shall be declared elected shall take the names of the two persons having the highest number of votes in the district, and out of them shall elect, by joint ballot, the senator wanted for such district; and, in this manner, all such vacancies shall be filled up in every district of the state; all vacancies in the senate arising by death, removal out of the state, or otherwise, except from failure to elect, shall be filled by a new election by the people of the district, upon the requisition of the governor, as soon as may be after such vacancies shall happen.

ART. 34. The senate shall be final judges of the elections, returns and qualifications of their own members, as pointed out in this constitution.

ART. 35. The senate shall have power to adjourn themselves, provided such adjournment do not exceed two days at a time; provided, nevertheless, that, whenever they shall sit on the trial of any impeachment, they may adjourn to such time and place as they may think proper, although the legislature be not assembled on such day or at such place.

ART. 36. The senate shall appoint their president and other officers, and determine their own rules of proceedings. And not less than thirteen members of the senate shall make a quorum for doing business; and, when less than sixteen senators shall be present, the assent of ten, at least, shall be necessary to render their acts and proceedings valid.

ART. 37. The senate shall be a court, with full power and authority to hear, try and determine all impeachments made by the house of representatives against any officer or officers of the state, for bribery, corruption, malpractice or maladministration in office, with full power to issue summons or compulsory process for convening witnesses before them; but, previous to the trial of any such impeachment, the members of the senate shall respectively be sworn truly and impartially to try and determine the charge in question according to evidence. And every officer impeached for bribery, corruption, malpractice or maladministration in office shall be served with an attested copy of the impeachment and order of senate thereon, with such citation as the senate may direct, setting forth the time and place of their sitting to try the impeachment; which service shall be made by the sheriff or such other sworn officer as the senate may appoint, at least fourteen days previous to the time of trial; and, such citation being duly served and returned, the senate may proceed in the hearing of the impeachment, giving the person impeached, if he shall appear, full liberty of producing witnesses and proofs and of making his defense by himself and counsel; and may also, upon his refusing or neglecting to appear, hear the proofs in support of the impeachment, and render judgment thereon, his non-appearance notwithstanding; and such judgment shall have the same force and effect as if the person impeached had appeared and pleaded in the trial.

ART. 38. Their judgment, however, shall not extend further than removal from office, disqualification to hold or enjoy any place of honor, trust or profit under this state; but the party so convicted shall, nevertheless, be liable to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment, according to the laws of the land.

ART. 39. Whenever the governor shall be impeached, the chief justice of the supreme judicial court shall, during the trial, preside in the senate, but have no vote therein.

EXECUTIVE POWER.—GOVERNOR.

ART. 40. There shall be a supreme executive magistrate, who shall be styled Governor of the State of New Hampshire, and whose title shall be His Excellency.

ART. 41. The governor shall be chosen biennially, in the month of November, and the votes for governor shall be received, sorted, counted, certified and returned in the same manner as the votes for senators; and the secretary shall lay the same before the senate and house of representatives on the first Wednesday of January, to be by them examined; and, in case of an election by a plurality of votes through the state, the choice shall be by them declared and published; and the qualifications of electors of the governor shall be the same as those for senators; and, if no person shall have a plurality of votes, the senate and house of representatives shall, by a joint ballot, elect one of the two persons having the highest number of votes, who shall be declared governor. And no person shall be eligible to this office unless, at the time of his election, he shall have been an inhabitant of this state for seven years next preceding, and unless he shall be of the age of thirty years.

ART. 42. In cases of disagreement between the two houses with regard to the time or place of adjournment or prorogation, the governor, with advice of council, shall have the right to adjourn or prorogue the general court, not exceeding ninety days at any one time, as he may determine the public good may require; and he shall dissolve the same seven days before the said first Wednesday of January. And, in case of any infectious distemper prevailing in the place where the said court at any time is to convene, or any other cause whereby dangers may arise to the health or lives of the members from their attendance the governor may direct the session to be holden at some other, the most convenient, place within the state.

ART. 43. Every bill which shall have passed both houses of the general court shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor; if he approve, he shall sign it, but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with such objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and, if approved by two thirds of that house, it shall become a law. But, in all such cases, the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for or against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within five days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature, by their adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

ART. 44. Every resolve shall be presented to the governor, and, before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or, being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by the senate and house of representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

ART. 45. All judicial officers, the attorney-general, coroners, and all officers of the navy and general and field officers of the militia, shall be nominated and appointed by the governor and council; and every such nomination shall be made at least three days prior to such appointment; and no appointment shall take place unless a majority of the council agree thereto.

ART. 46. The governor and council shall have a negative on each other, both in the nominations and appointments. Every nomination and appointment shall be signed by the governor and council, and every negative shall be also signed by the governor or council who made the same.

ART. 47. The captains and subalterns in the respective regiments shall be nominated and recommended by the field officers to the governor, who is to issue their commissions immediately on receipt of such recommendation; provided, that no person shall be so nominated and recommended until he shall have been examined and found duly qualified by an examining board appointed by the governor.

ART. 48. Whenever the chair of the governor shall become vacant, by reason of his death, absence from the state, or otherwise, the president of the senate shall, during such vacancy, have and exercise all the powers and authorities, which, by this constitution, the governor is vested with when personally present; but, when the president of the senate shall exercise the office of governor, he shall not hold his office in the senate. Whenever the chair both of the governor and of the president of the senate shall become vacant, by reason of their death, absence from the state, or otherwise, the speaker of the house shall, during such vacancies, have and exercise all the powers and authorities which, by this constitution, the governor is vested with when personally present; but when the speaker of the house shall exercise the office of governor, he shall not hold his office in the house.

ART. 49. The governor, with advice of council, shall have full power and authority, in recess of the general court, to prorogue the same from time to time, not exceeding ninety days in any one recess of said court; and, during the sessions of said court, to adjourn or prorogue it to any time the two houses may desire; and to call it together sooner than the time to which it may be adjourned or prorogued, if the welfare of the state should require the same.

ART. 50. The governor of this state, for the time being, shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy and all the military forces of the state by sea and land; and shall have full power, by himself or by any chief commander or other officer or officers, from time to time to train, instruct, exercise, and govern the militia and navy; and for the special defense and safety of this state, to assemble in martial array and put in warlike posture the inhabitants thereof and to lead and conduct them, and with them to encounter, repulse, repel, resist, and pursue by force of arms, as well by sea as by land, within and without the limits of this state; and also to kill, slay, destroy, if necessary, and conquer, by all fitting ways, enterprise, and means all and every such person and persons as shall at any time hereafter, in a hostile manner, attempt or enterprise the destruction, invasion, detriment or annoyance of this state; and to use and exercise over the army and navy and over the militia in actual service the law martial, in time of war, invasion, and also in rebellion declared by the legislature to exist, as occasion shall necessarily require; and surprise, by all ways and means whatsoever, all and every such person or persons, with their ships, arms, ammunition, and other goods, as shall, in a hostile manner, invade, or attempt the invading, conquering, or annoying this state; and, in fine, the governor hereby is intrusted with all other powers incident to the office of captain-general and commander-in-chief and admiral, to be exercised agreeably to the rules and regulations of the constitution and laws of the land, provided, that the governor shall not at any time hereafter, by virtue of any power by this constitution granted, or hereafter to be granted to him by the legislature, transport any of the inhabitants of this state or oblige them to march out of the limits of the same without their free and voluntary consent or the consent of the general court, nor grant commissions for exercising the law martial in any case without the advice and consent of the council.

ART. 51. The power of pardoning offenses, except such as persons may be convicted of before the senate, by impeachment of the house, shall be in the governor, by and with the advice of council; but no charter of pardon, granted by the governor with advice of council, before conviction, shall avail the party pleading the same, notwithstanding any general or particular expressions contained therein, descriptive of the offense or offenses intended to be pardoned.

ART. 52. No officer, duly commissioned to command in the militia, shall be removed from his office but by the address of both houses to the governor or by fair trial in court martial pursuant to the laws of the state for the time being.

ART. 53. The commanding officers of the regiments shall appoint their adjutants and quartermasters; the brigadiers, their brigade-majors; the major-generals, their aids; the captains and subalterns, their non-commissioned officers.

ART. 54. The division of the militia into brigades, regiments and companies, made in pursuance of the militia laws now in force, shall be considered as the proper division of the militia of this state, until the same shall be altered by some future law.

ART. 55. No moneys shall be issued out of the treasury of this state and disposed of (except such sums as may be appropriated for the redemption of bills of credit or treasurer's notes or for the payment of interest arising thereon) but by warrant under the hand of the governor for the time being, by and with the advice and consent of the council, for the necessary support and defense of this state and for the necessary protection and preservation of the inhabitants thereof, agreeably to the acts and resolves of the general court.

ART. 56. All public boards, the commissary-general, all superintending officers of public magazines and stores belonging to this state, and all commanding officers of forts and garrisons within the same shall, once in every three months, officially and without requisition, and at other times when required by the governor, deliver to him an account of all goods, stores, provisions, ammunition, cannon with their appendages, and all small arms with their accoutrements, and all other public property under their care respectively, distinguishing the quantity and kind of each as particularly as may be, together with the condition of such forts and garrisons. And the commanding officer shall exhibit to the governor, when required by him, true and exact plans of such forts, and of the land and sea, or harbor or harbors adjacent.

ART. 57. The governor and council shall be compensated for their services, from time to time, by such grants as the general court shall think reasonable.

ART. 58. Permanent and honorable salaries shall be established by law for the justices of the superior court.

COUNCIL.

ART. 59. There shall be biennially elected by ballot five councilors, for advising the governor in the executive part of government. The freeholders and other inhabitants in each county, qualified to vote for senators, shall, some time in the month of November, give in their votes for one councilor, which votes shall be received, sorted, counted, certified and returned to the secretary's office, in the same manner as the votes for senators, to be by the secretary laid before the senate and house of representatives on the first Wednesday of January.

ART. 60. And the person having a plurality of votes in any county shall be considered as duly elected a councilor; but, if no person shall have a plurality of votes in any county, the senate and house of representatives shall take the names of the two persons who have the highest number of votes in each county and not elected, and out of those two shall elect, by joint ballot, the councilor wanted for the county; and the qualifications for councilors shall be the same as for senator.

ART. 61. If any person thus chosen a councilor shall be elected governor or member of either branch of the legislature and shall accept the trust, or if any person elected a councilor shall refuse to accept the office, or in case of the death, resignation or removal of any councilor out of the state, the governor may issue a precept for the election of a new councilor in that county where such vacancy shall happen; and the choice shall be in the same manner as before directed; and the governor shall have full power and authority to convene the council, from time to time, at his discretion; and with them, or the majority of them, may and shall, from time to time, hold a council for ordering and directing the affairs of the state, according to the laws of the land.

ART. 62. The members of the council may be impeached by the house and tried by the senate for bribery, corruption, malpractice or maladministration.

ART. 63. The resolutions and advice of the council shall be recorded by the secretary in a register, and signed by all the members present agreeing thereto; and this record may be called for at any time by either house of the legislature; and any member of the council may enter his opinion contrary to the resolution of the majority, with the reasons for such opinion.

ART. 64. The legislature may, if the public good shall hereafter require it, divide the state into five districts, as nearly equal as may be, governing themselves by the number of population, each district to elect a councilor; and, in case of such division, the manner of the choice shall be conformable to the present mode of election in counties.

ART. 65. And, whereas the elections appointed to be made by this constitution on the first Wednesday of January, biennially, by the two houses of the legislature, may not be completed on that day, the said elections may be adjourned from day to day until the same be completed. And the order of the elections shall be as follows: The vacancies in the senate, if any, shall be first filled up; the governor shall then be elected, provided there shall be no choice of him by the people; and afterwards, the two houses shall proceed to fill up the vacancy, if any, in the council.

SECRETARY, TREASURER, COMMISSARY-GENERAL, ETC.

ART. 66. The secretary, treasurer and commissary-general shall be chosen by joint ballot of the senators and representatives, assembled in one room.

ART. 67. The records of the state shall be kept in the office of the secretary; and he shall attend the governor and council, the senate and representatives, in person or by deputy, as they may require.

ART. 68. The secretary of the state shall at all times have a deputy, to be by him appointed, for whose conduct in office he shall be responsible; and, in case of the death, removal or inability of the secretary, his deputy shall exercise all the duties of the office of secretary of this state until another shall be appointed.

ART. 69. The secretary, before he enters upon the business of his office, shall give bond, with sufficient sureties, in a reasonable sum, for the use of the state, for the punctual performance of his trust.

COUNTY TREASURERS, ETC.

ART. 70. The county treasurers, registers of probate, solicitors, sheriffs and registers of deeds shall be elected by the inhabitants of the several towns in the several counties in the state, according to the method now practiced and the laws of the state; provided, nevertheless, the legislature shall have authority to alter the manner of certifying the votes and the mode of electing those officers, but not so as to deprive the people of the right they now have of electing them.

ART. 71. And the legislature, on the application of the major part of the inhabitants of any county, shall have authority to divide the same into two districts for registering deeds, if to them it shall appear necessary, each district to elect a register of deeds; and, before they enter upon the business of their offices, shall be respectively sworn faithfully to discharge the duties thereof, and shall severally give bond, with sufficient sureties, in a reasonable sum, for the use of the county, for the punctual performance of their respective trusts.

JUDICIARY POWER.

ART. 72. The tenure that all commissioned officers shall have by law in their offices shall be expressed in their respective commissions. All judicial officers, duly appointed, commissioned and sworn, shall hold their offices during good behavior, excepting those concerning whom there is a different provision made in this constitution; provided, nevertheless, the governor, with consent of council, may remove them upon the address of both houses of the legislature.

ART. 73. Each branch of the legislature, as well as the governor and council, shall have authority to require the opinions of the justices of the superior court upon important questions of law and upon solemn occasions.

ART. 74. In order that the people may not suffer from the long continuance in place of any justice of the peace who shall fail in discharging the important duties of his office with ability and fidelity, all commissions of justices of the peace shall become void at the expiration of five years from their respective dates; and upon the expiration of any commission, the same may, if necessary, be renewed, or another person appointed, as shall most conduce to the well-being of the state.

ART. 75. All causes of marriage, divorce and alimony, and all appeals from the respective judges of probate, shall be heard and tried by the superior court, until the legislature shall by law make other provision.

ART. 76. The general court are empowered to give to justices of the peace jurisdiction in civil causes, when the damages demanded shall not exceed one hundred dollars and title of real estate is not concerned, but with the right of appeal to either party to some other court. And the general court are further empowered to give to police courts original jurisdiction to try and determine, subject to right of appeal and trial by jury, all criminal causes wherein the punishment is less than imprisonment in the state prison.

ART. 77. No person shall hold the office of judge of any court, or judge of probate, or sheriff of any county, after he has attained the age of seventy years.

ART. 78. No judge of any court or justice of the peace shall act as attorney, or be of counsel to any party, or originate any civil suit, in matters which shall come or be brought before him as judge or justice of the peace.

ART. 79. All matters relating to the probate of wills and granting letters of administration shall be exercised by the judges of probate in such manner as the legislature have directed or may hereafter direct; and the judges of probate shall hold their courts at such place or places, on such fixed days as the convenience of the people may require and the legislature from time to time appoint.

ART. 80. No judge or register of probate shall be of counsel, act as advocate, or receive any fees as advocate or counsel, in any probate business which is pending or may be brought into any court of probate in the county of which he is judge or register.

CLERKS OF COURTS.

ART. 81. The judges of the courts (those of probate excepted) shall appoint their respective clerks, to hold their office during pleasure; and no such clerk shall act as an attorney or be of counsel in any cause in the court of which he is a clerk, nor shall he draw any writ originating a civil action.

ENCOURAGEMENT OF LITERATURE, ETC.

ART. 82. Knowledge and learning generally diffused through a community being essential to the preservation of a free government, and spreading the opportunities and advantages of education through the various parts of the country being highly conducive to promote this end, it shall be the duty of the legislators and magistrates, in all future periods of this government, to cherish the interest of literature and the sciences, and all seminaries and public schools; to encourage private and public institutions, rewards and immunities for the promotion of agriculture, arts, sciences, commerce, trades, manufactures and natural history of the country; to countenance and inculcate the principles of humanity and general benevolence, public and private charity, industry and economy, honesty and punctuality, sincerity, sobriety and all social affections and generous sentiments, among the people; provided, nevertheless, that no money raised by taxation shall ever be granted or applied for the use of the schools or institutions of any religious sect or denomination. Free and fair competition in the trades and industries is an inherent and essential right of the people and should be protected against all monopolies and conspiracies which tend to hinder or destroy it. The size and functions of all corporations should be so limited and regulated as to prohibit fictitious capitalization, and provision should be made for the supervision and government thereof:—Therefore, all just power possessed by the state is hereby granted to the general court to enact laws to prevent the operations within the state of all persons and associations, and all trusts and corporations, foreign and domestic, and the officers thereof, who endeavor to raise the price of any article of commerce or to destroy free and fair competition in the trades and industries through combination, conspiracy, monopoly or any other unfair means; to control and regulate the acts of all such persons, associations, corporations, trusts and officials doing business within the state; to prevent fictitious capitalization; and to authorize civil and criminal proceedings in respect to all the wrongs herein declared against.

OATHS AND SUBSCRIPTIONS.—EXCLUSION FROM OFFICES.—COMMISSIONS.—WRITS.—CONFIRMATION OF LAWS.—HABEAS CORPUS.—THE ENACTING STYLE.—CONTINUANCE OF OFFICERS.—PROVISION FOR A FUTURE REVISION OF THE CONSTITUTION.—ETC.

ART. 83. Any person chosen governor, councilor, senator or representative, military or civil officer (town officers excepted), accepting the trust, shall, before he proceeds to execute the duties of his office, make and subscribe the following declarations, viz.:—

I, A B, do solemnly swear that I will bear faith and true allegiance to the state of New Hampshire and will support the constitution thereof. So help me God.

I, A B, do solemnly and sincerely swear and affirm that I will faithfully and impartially discharge and perform all the duties incumbent on me as _____, according to the best of my abilities, agreeably to the rules and regulations of this constitution and the laws of the state of New Hampshire. So help me God.

Any person having taken and subscribed the oath of allegiance, and the same being filed in the secretary's office, he shall not be obliged to take said oath again.

Provided, always, when any person chosen or appointed as aforesaid shall be of the denomination called Quakers, or shall be scrupulous of swearing and shall decline taking the said oaths, such person shall take and subscribe them, omitting the word "swear" and likewise the words "So help me God," subjoining instead thereof, "This I do under the pains and penalties of perjury."

ART. 84. And the oaths or affirmations shall be taken and subscribed by the governor, before the president of the senate, in presence of both houses of the legislature; and by the senators and representatives first elected under this constitution, as altered and amended, before the president of the state and a majority of the council then in office, and forever afterward before the governor and council for the time being; and by all other officers, before such persons and in such manner as the legislature shall from time to time appoint.

ART. 85. All commissions shall be in the name of the state of New Hampshire, signed by the governor, and attested by the secretary or his deputy, and shall have the great seal of the state affixed thereto.

ART. 86. All writs issuing out of the clerk's office, in any of the courts of law, shall be in the name of the state of New Hampshire, shall be under the seal of the court whence they issue, and bear teste of the chief, first or senior justice of the court; but, when such justice shall be interested, then the writ shall bear teste of some other justice of the court, to which the same shall be returnable; and be signed by the clerk of such court.

ART. 87. All indictments, presentments and information shall conclude, "against the peace and dignity of the state."

ART. 88. The estate of such persons as may destroy their own lives shall not for that offense be forfeited, but descend or ascend in the same manner as if such persons had died in a natural way. Nor shall any article which shall accidentally occasion the death of any person be henceforth deemed a deodand, or in any wise forfeited on account of such misfortune.

ART. 89. All the laws which have heretofore been adopted, used and approved in the province, colony or state of New Hampshire, and usually practiced on in the courts of law, shall remain and be in full force until altered and repealed by the legislature, such parts thereof only excepted as are repugnant to the rights and liberties contained in this constitution; provided, that nothing herein contained, when compared with the twenty-third article in the bill of rights, shall be construed to affect the laws already made respecting the persons or estates of absentees.

ART. 90. The privilege and benefit of the habeas corpus shall be enjoyed in this state in the most free, easy, cheap, expeditious and ample manner, and shall not be suspended by the legislature except upon the most urgent and pressing occasions, and for a time not exceeding three months.

ART. 91. The enacting style, in making and passing acts, statutes and laws, shall be, Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives in general court convened.

ART. 92. No governor or judge of the supreme judicial court shall hold any office or place under the authority of this state, except such as by this constitution they are admitted to hold, saving that the judges of the said court may hold the offices of justices of the peace throughout the state; nor shall they hold any place or office or receive any pension or salary from any other state, government or power whatever.

ART. 93. No person shall be capable of exercising at the same time more than one of the following offices within this state, viz.: judge of probate, sheriff, register of deeds; and never more than two offices of profit, which may be held by appointment of the governor, or governor and council, or senate and house of representatives, or superior or inferior courts, military offices and offices of justices of the peace excepted.

ART. 94. No person holding the office of judge of any court (except special judges), secretary, treasurer of the state, attorney-general, commissary-general, military officers receiving pay from the continent or this state (excepting officers of the militia occasionally called forth on an emergency), registers of deeds, sheriff or officers of the customs, including naval officers, collectors of excise and state and continental taxes hereafter appointed, and not having settled their accounts with the respective officers with whom it is their duty to settle such accounts, members of congress or any person holding any office under the United States, shall at the same time hold the office of governor, or have a seat in the senate or house of representatives or council; but his being chosen and appointed to and accepting the same shall operate as a resignation of their seat in the chair, senate or house of representatives or council, and the place so vacated shall be filled up. No member of the council shall have a seat in the senate or house of representatives.

ART. 95. No person shall ever be admitted to hold a seat in the legislature, or any office of trust or importance under this government, who, in the due course of law, has been convicted of bribery or corruption in obtaining an election or appointment.

ART. 96. In all cases where sums of money are mentioned in this constitution, the value thereof shall be computed in silver at six shillings and eight pence per ounce.

ART. 97. To the end that there may be no failure of justice or danger to the state by the alterations and amendments made in the constitution, the general court is hereby fully authorized and directed to fix the time when the alterations and amendments shall take effect, and make the necessary arrangements accordingly.

ART. 98. It shall be the duty of the selectmen and assessors of the several towns and places in this state, in warning the first annual meetings for the choice of senators, after the expiration of seven years from the adoption of this constitution as amended, to insert expressly in the warrant this purpose among the others for the meeting, to wit, to take the sense of the qualified voters on the subject of a revision of the constitution; and, the meeting being warned accordingly, and not otherwise, the moderator shall take the sense of the qualified voters present as to the necessity of a revision; and a return of the number of votes for and against such necessity shall be made by the clerks, sealed up and directed to the general court at their then next session; and if it shall appear to the general court by such return that the sense of the people of the state has been taken, and that, in the opinion of a majority of the qualified voters in the state present and voting at said meetings, there is a necessity for a revision of the constitution, it shall be the duty of the general court to call a convention for that purpose; otherwise the general court shall direct the sense of the people to be taken, and then proceed in the manner before mentioned; the delegates to be chosen in the same manner and proportioned as the representatives to the general court; provided, that no alteration shall be made in this constitution before the same shall be laid before the towns and unincorporated places and approved by two thirds of the qualified voters present and voting on the subject.

ART. 99. And the same method of taking the sense of the people as to a revision of the constitution, and calling a convention for that purpose, shall be observed afterward, at the expiration of every seven years.

ART. 100. This form of government shall be enrolled on parchment and deposited in the secretary's office, and be a part of the laws of the land, and printed copies thereof shall be prefixed to the books containing the laws of this state in all future editions thereof.

THE STATE CONSTITUTION.

The government of New Hampshire is founded upon a constitution. This constitution was established when the state came into being, after the Revolutionary War, and has been remodelled and amended from time to time into its present form.

It was in 1775 that the American Continental Congress, which was the governing body of the colonies during the Revolution, granted to the province of New Hampshire the right to set up its own government free and independent of English rule. Thereupon a call was issued to the cities and towns to send delegates to the Fifth Provincial Congress to "establish such a form of government as in their judgment will best produce the happiness of the people, and most effectually secure peace and good order in the province during the continuance of the present dispute between Great Britain and the colonies." This was in reality the first constitutional convention.

General John Sullivan of the Revolutionary Army was the leading personality in the framing of the first form of government. Meshech Weare was head of the provincial government at the time and he called the congress to order at Exeter. The congress resolved itself into a house of representatives and chose an executive council.

The first constitution was then drawn up and went into effect as organic law of the province in 1776. It provided for a bicameral legislature of a house of representatives and a council of twelve, with a president at the head of the council. No law should be passed except by vote of both houses and all money-raising bills should originate in the house of representatives. All officers were to be appointed by the two houses, with but few exceptions.

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

The first constitution was never voted upon by the people, but went into effect upon adoption by the congress. It was designed to govern the province until after the Revolution and it was similar to the organic laws of other revolting provinces. It continued in force over eight years. New Hampshire was the first state to have a written constitution.

When the new legislature was not in session, government was vested in a committee of safety appointed by it. Courts were established in 1776 and the name of the Province of New Hampshire was changed to "State of New Hampshire." A declaration of state independence was made nineteen days before the national Declaration of Independence on the Fourth of July.

In 1778 the second constitutional convention met at Concord. A constitution was framed continuing a bi-cameral legislature to be known as the "general court" and the house of representatives was to be elected by the votes of taxpayers (male Protestants only). This document was submitted to a vote of the people and was rejected.

Accordingly in 1781 the third constitutional convention met at Concord. A constitution was drawn up and submitted to the people and rejected, and the convention then met again in 1782 and drew up another form. This was also rejected by popular vote and the convention was obliged to make a third try at it. The third draft was voted upon favorably by the people and went into effect.

The new constitution was similar to that which had been adopted by Massachusetts. The first part of it consisted of a bill of rights of thirty-eight articles. Government was founded on the consent of the governed; it was divided into three branches—executive, legislative and judicial. The upper branch of the legislature was to be a senate of twelve and the lower branch a house of members elected from the towns, a member for each town with one hundred and fifty "polls," two members for towns having four hundred and fifty polls and an additional member for each additional three hundred polls. "President" was the title given the chief executive officer and he was given a seat and vote in the senate but he had no veto power. A council was created to act with the president in making appointments, the council to be elected by the legislature, and to consist of two senators and three representatives. Judicial officers were to hold office during good behavior and to be removeable by address. Property and Protestant religious qualifications were required of voters. The election of congressmen was by the legislature.

CONSTITUTION OF 1784.

Such was the constitution of 1784, and with many minor changes this constitution has remained in force ever since and is today the organic law of the state. This succeeded the first constitution or the constitution of 1776 and is the "second constitution," so called.

This constitution provided among other things that in seven years the fourth constitutional convention might, if the people so voted, be assembled and this was done in 1791 at Concord. Seventy-two changes were proposed and submitted to popular vote. Forty-six of these were adopted by two-thirds vote of the people and twenty-six were rejected. The convention then drew up another set of amendments and these were later adopted by the people as a whole.

For the next sixty years there was no change in the organic law, although a convention could have been called once in seven years if the people had desired. No other state has lived under a constitution without change for so long a period.

The fifth constitutional convention met at Concord in 1850 under the presidency of Franklin Pierce, later President of the United States. Fifteen amendments were submitted to popular vote and all were turned down. The convention then resubmitted three of the rejected propositions. Only one of these, an amendment to do away with the property qualifications for voting, was adopted on the second try. The other two resubmitted were to abolish the religious test for office and to provide a new method of amending the constitution.

THE SIXTH CONVENTION.

The sixth constitutional convention met at Concord in 1876, over a quarter-century since the fifth. Thirteen amendments were submitted and eleven of them were adopted by popular vote. The basis of representation in the legislature was changed from that of ratable polls to that of population. The legislature was to meet every other year instead of every year and the number of senators was to be increased from twelve to twenty-four. Sheriffs were to be elected by popular vote, the religious test was abolished and the time of holding the elections was changed from March to November.

In 1889 the seventh convention met and submitted seven amendments, five of which were adopted. Prohibition and a proposition to make the bill of rights non-sectarian were defeated, but the propositions adopted were to classify small towns for representation in the legislature, provide for the succession of the speaker of the house to the governorship in the event of the death or removal of the governor and the president of the senate, new elections to fill vacancies in the senate, fixed salaries for legislators and legislative sessions in January instead of June.

In 1902 the eighth constitutional convention met at Concord under the presidency of General Frank S. Streeter of that city. About seventy resolutions for amending the constitution were submitted and ten of them were adopted by the convention and voted upon by the people.

An educational qualification for voting and holding office was ratified by 28,601 to 8,205. Examination of captains and subalterns in the militia before appointment was ratified by 23,228 to 7,377. Extension of the taxing power of the legislature was ratified by 20,917 to 10,306. Regulations of trusts, monopolies and combinations in restraint of trade was ratified by 23,732 to 8,659.

An amendment to abolish the election of a commissary-general of the militia by the legislature was rejected by 17,951 to 10,082, two-thirds affirmative vote being necessary. Extension of the jurisdiction of police courts was rejected by 19,736 to 11,289. The elimination of the words "evangelical" and "Protestant" from the bill of rights was rejected by 16,611 to 15,727. Woman suffrage was rejected by 13,089 to 21,788, and reduction in the size of the house of representatives by changing the basis of representation by 20,295 to 13,069. The creation of voting precincts was rejected by 16,747 to 13,391.

CONVENTION OF 1912.

The ninth constitutional convention met in 1912 at Concord under the presidency of Edwin F. Jones of Manchester and entertained sixty-one resolutions for amending the constitution. Twelve propositions were submitted to the people and four of them were adopted and became a part of the constitution.

Disfranchisement for treason, bribery and wilful violation of the election laws was adopted by 22,383 to 8,322. The abolition of the majority vote requirements for the election of governor, councilors and senators was carried by 21,120 to 9,801. Further extension of the jurisdiction of police courts was approved by 18,606 to 8,291. The abolition of the property basis for representation in the executive council and the substitution of population as a basis was carried by 19,196 to 6,901.

Increase in the size of the senate and the abolition of property basis for senatorial representation was defeated by 19,443 to 13,931. Change in the basis of representation in the house of representatives was defeated by 21,399 to 10,952. Giving the legislature the right to classify property for purposes of taxation was defeated by 23,108 to 12,636. Graduation and classification of inheritance taxation was defeated by 18,432 to 9,699. Substitution on an income tax for a direct tax on certain corporations was defeated by 19,200 to 10,151. Abolition of the word "Protestant" and other religious qualifications in the bill of rights was defeated by 16,555 to 14,315. Abolition of the one-year pension limits was defeated by 16,708 to 11,440. Extending the authority of the governor in his veto power over appropriations was defeated by 17,942 to 9,325.

The next convention to revise the constitution will be the tenth. Once in seven years a referendum is taken as to the desire of the people to have a convention meet. The legislature of 1915 provided that such a vote should be polled at the election of 1916 and if the vote should be in favor of calling a tenth convention, delegates to it could be elected in 1918 and the convention could sit that year or the following. The constitution printed in this book is as amended by the nine conventions and vote of the people and is today the organic law of New Hampshire.

BRANCHES OF GOVERNMENT.

The constitution divides the government into three branches. They are the executive branch, the legislative branch and the judicial branch. The executive department consists of the governor and council, the secretary of state, the deputy secretary of state, the treasurer, the commissary-general and such other officers as the legislature has established. The legislative branch consists of a senate and house of representatives. The judicial branch consists of a system of courts established by the legislature. The military establishment is part of the executive branch and the governor is commander-in-chief of the military establishment.

In addition to the several constitutional officers mentioned above, the legislature has, from time to time, arranged and organized new offices so that the government now includes the following departments:

- Governor.
- Executive council.
- Department of state.
- Treasury.
- Militia.
- Legislature.
- Judiciary.
- Bank commission.
- Public service commission.
- Insurance department.
- Fish and game department.
- Department of public instruction.
- Department of agriculture.

Commission of pharmacy and practical chemistry.

Tax commission.

Department of health.

Forestry department.

Department of records.

Dental board.

Ballot law commission.

Department of labor.

Department of charities and corrections.

Medical board.

Veterinary examining board.

Printing commission.

Excise commission.

Highway department.

Optometry board.

Department of institutions.

Department of motor vehicles.

In subsequent chapters will be given brief sketches of the histories of these departments in order given, together with a list of the men who have occupied the more important posts in the government from the time of earliest provincial days to the present. Colonial government began in 1680 and state government under the constitution began in 1784. The colonial period included about ninety-five years down to the revolution in 1775. The revolutionary period included about nine years to the constitution and the history of the state is now in its one hundred and thirty-third year.

THE GOVERNOR.

The governor is the chief executive and his title is "his excellency." Provincial governors were appointed by the king of England and they had various titles such as "president," "lieutenant-governor," "deputy-governor" and "governor." For the first eighty years governors frequently did not reside in the province.

When the revolution broke out the royal governor withdrew, in 1775, and the province was ruled by a revolutionary convention headed by a president. The next year a temporary constitution provided for a president of a council and chairman of a committee of safety to be the chief executive. The constitution of 1784 provided for a president to be elected by popular vote and in 1792 the title was changed to governor. In 1913 the election of the governor was changed from the majority-vote system to the plurality-vote system. Previous to that the failure of a candidate to receive a majority vote threw the election into the legislature.

The following is a list of the seventy-five men who have been chief executives together with the title under which each served and the years in office.

GUBERNATORIAL VOTES

(† Indicates election by the people, * by the legislature.)

Year.

1784 Meshech Weare unanimously elected "president."

(NOTE—There was no party alignment during the early years of the government. Followers of the national constitutional government, headed by John Sullivan and John T. Gilman were Federalists, and the opposition was known as the anti-Federalist party.)

Revolutionary Councilors, 1776-84.

Article 59 of the second part of the constitution provides for an executive council of five men to advise and act with the governor. Before the constitution there was a council both under the temporary constitution of the Revolution and under the provincial government. Since 1913 councilors have been elected by plurality vote to represent population but previously to that they were elected by majority vote to represent property, and in the colonial days they were appointed.

The following is a complete list of all the councilors since the Revolution, giving the name of each and the year in which he was elected or appointed.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

Articles 66, 67 and 68 of the second part of the constitution provide for a department of state with a secretary of state who is elected biennially by the legislature and a deputy secretary of state appointed by the secretary. In the colonial period there was a secretary appointed by the chief executive, but no deputy. During the revolutionary period and under the constitution of 1784 the secretary was chosen by the legislature and given authority to have several deputies, but in 1793 the constitution was changed to provide for a single deputy.

The following is a list of the thirty-nine secretaries of state from the beginning, together with the term which each served and a list of the thirty-five deputy secretaries.

THE TREASURY.

Article 66 of the second part of the constitution provides for a treasurer who is elected biennially by the legislature. In the colonial period the treasurer was appointed by the chief executive and frequently the same man was secretary of the province and treasurer. In 1891 the legislature created the office of deputy treasurer.

The following is a list of the twenty-eight treasurers from the beginning and the term of office each served. A list of the four deputy treasurers is also given with the residence and term served by each.

THE MILITIA.

The constitution vests all military authority in the governor, who is by virtue of his office commander-in-chief of the militia or national guard. He appoints an adjutant-general as his chief of staff and active head of the military establishment, and the office carries with it the rank of brigadier-general. The following is a list of the adjutant-generals from the beginning, together with their places of residence and the term of service of each.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Part second of the constitution provides for a legislature to be known as the "general court," to consist of a senate and house of representatives. Before the constitution was made there was a legislature, before the legislature a colonial house of representatives, and before that a provincial congress or convention.

Up to 1917 there have been, counting the colonial legislatures, just two hundred sessions of the New Hampshire legislature. These have taken place at intervals of not more than two years between any two sessions during a period of one hundred and forty years. The following list gives the date when each session began, the date it adjourned, the number of days it lasted and the place it met in.

THE SENATE.

The senate began under the constitution and first met in 1784. There were at first twelve senators who represented the five counties that then existed, five senators from Rockingham county, two from Strafford, two from Hillsborough, two from Cheshire and one from Grafton. In 1793 senatorial districts were created to take the place of county representation and each district elected one senator. The elections during the early years took place in March and the legislature met in June annually.

The senatorial districting of 1793 was changed over in 1803 and several times subsequently. In 1878 the senate was doubled in size. In 1915 the senators were elected by plurality instead of majority vote. The following is a complete list of the senators from the beginning, showing the name and residence of each member of each senate, arranged in the order of districts from 1793, when the districts were created, and previous to that year, in the order of counties.

House of Representatives.

The house of representatives is the popular branch of the legislature, representing the cities and towns. Its size has varied from year to year, being a small assembly in the colonial days and gradually expanding until now it is the largest body in any state legislature in the country. The following table shows the number of members returned to the legislature at each session since the Constitution went into effect.

THE JUDICIARY.

The Constitution in article 4, part 2, gives the legislature full authority to establish courts. There is a supreme court and a superior court, each with a chief and four associate justices; a probate court in each county, with a probate judge and municipal police courts in the cities and most of the towns.

Previous to the Revolution there was a superior court of judicature for the province, which sat from 1693 to 1776, eighty-three years. This was succeeded by the superior court of judicature, which sat from 1776 to 1813, thirty-seven years. The supreme judicial court took its place in 1813 and lasted three years, until 1816. Then the superior court of judicature was re-established and sat until 1855, thirty-nine years. This was succeeded in 1855 by the supreme judicial court, which lasted until 1874, nineteen years. Then the superior court of judicature was restored for two years, to be succeeded in 1876 by the supreme court, which has since, during a period of forty years, been the highest court in the state.

The superior court was first known as the court of common pleas, which was established in 1813 with two circuits, eastern and western. In 1816 the circuits were abolished and two districts were established, and in 1820 these were merged into the court of sessions. In 1824 the court of common pleas was re-established to sit, until in 1833, after an existence of nine years, the court went out of existence. In 1842 the circuit court was re-established without any circuits or districts, and it sat for seven years, until 1849, when it was abolished. In 1851 it was again re-established and was reorganized in 1855 and abolished in 1859. It was once more re-established in 1874 and lasted two years. In 1901, after a lapse of twenty-five years, a secondary court was established under the name of superior court, which has been since maintained.

THE BANK COMMISSION.

The bank commission was created by the legislature in 1837, and consisted of three commissioners, appointed one each year for terms of three years. Examination of banks before that was performed by legislative committees, and as early as 1814 banks made returns of their condition to the governor and council, who submitted them to the legislature. The legislative committees and the early bank commissions had supervision only over banks of issue and discount, but in 1841 their activities extended to cover savings banks.

In 1881 the number of commissioners was reduced from three to two and the terms of office increased from one year to two. In 1913 the number was further reduced from two to one and the office of deputy commissioner was created. In 1915 the number of commissioners was restored to three and the term of office lengthened to six years.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION.

The public service commission was formerly known as the railroad commission, and was created by the legislature seventy-two years ago, in 1844. Previous to that there had been a regulation of railroads by the state and as early as 1838 a law was passed authorizing the governor and council to appoint three commissioners in each county. The first state commission, however, was named in 1844, and in 1855 election by popular vote was substituted for appointment. In 1883 election was abolished and appointment restored. In 1911 the name was changed to public service commission and the powers and duties of the board enlarged. Previous to 1911 commissioners were appointed or elected one at a time for three-year terms, but since that year the term has been six years. Special commissioners have served from time to time, but were not regarded as members of the state board and are not listed below in the following list of commissioners from the beginning, with the residence of each and term served.

FORESTRY DEPARTMENT.

The forestry department was created by the legislature in 1881, and the governor and seven others served as the first forestry commission. In 1889 the commission was reduced to three members, appointed by the governor and council. In 1893 a commission of four, two members of each political party, was created to serve for terms of four years, one seat becoming vacant annually, and appointments were made by the governor and council. The office of secretary of the commission was created, one of the commissioners being salaried secretary and active head of the department. The governor was a commissioner by virtue of his office. In 1909 the department was reorganized and reduced to three in number, who are appointed by the governor and council, one each year for a term of three years. The governor is not a commissioner, and instead of an active secretary the commission appoints a forester, who serves at the pleasure of the commission. Edgar C. Hirst of Concord has been forester since the office was created. Following is a list of the commissioners from the beginning, with the residence of each and the term served:

THE HOSPITAL.

The first legislative act to provide personal care for the insane was passed in 1822, providing that any insane person who had committed a crime and was not guilty by reason of insanity, and who would be dangerous to be at large, should be committed by court to prison until restored or discharged by due process of law. Soon after this, agitation throughout the state developed for some better method of care and treatment of the insane. Newspapers enlisted in the cause. In 1836 the legislature passed an act requesting the governor to issue a precept to the selectmen of the towns "to take the sense of the qualified voters on the following question: Is it expedient for the state to grant an appropriation to build an insane hospital?" So successful was this appeal that not only were private funds raised, but in 1838 an act of incorporation was passed, entitled "An Act to incorporate 'The New Hampshire Asylum for the Insane.'"

The management of the institution was at first semi-private and public, and was vested in a board of trustees, represented in part by the donors and in part by appointees selected by the governor and council, under an act of the legislature of 1839. In the following year, 1840, the legislature repealed the act providing for mutual representation of the donors and the state on the board of trustees, and providing that all trustees should be appointed by the state. With this act of legislation of 1840 the erection of an asylum for the insane was assured, and the trustees, with the assistance of state and private aid, began the erection of an institution at Concord, which was opened in 1843.

The early construction of the hospital was after the plan of the solid or block type of building. In the case of the asylum there was an administration center, with wings extending from either side. Additional wings have from time to time been added to the original unit, as the exigencies demanded. Modern construction calls for the erection of detached groups of buildings, and in 1882 the first detached building was erected for the care of convalescent, appreciative and intelligent women patients, and is known as the Bancroft building.

From this latter date various events in the history of the hospital have followed each other in rapid sequence, as the following chronological happenings indicate:

Training School for Nurses.....	1888
Walker Cottage at Lake Penacook.....	1892
Workshop for Men.....	1892
Twitchell House	1895
Nurses' Home	1900
Change of name from New Hampshire Asylum for the Insane to New Hampshire State Hospital.....	1901

Andrew McFarland, M. D.....	1845-1852
John E. Tyler, M. D.....	1852-1857
Jesse P. Bancroft, M. D.....	1857-1882
Charles P. Bancroft, M. D.....	1882-

THE LIBRARY.

The library was established in 1823, when all the books that had been accumulating for years in the state house were deposited in the department of state, and for forty-two years the secretary of state was librarian also. In 1865 the legislature officially established the library as a separate institution, and a board of library trustees was created the following year. It consists of three men, one appointed each year by the governor and council for a term of three years. The board appoints a librarian, who serves at the pleasure of the trustees and is the active head of the library. In 1891 the legislature created a library commission, consisting of the librarian and four others, and the commission was consolidated with the trustees in 1901. In 1913 a legislative reference bureau was created by the legislature and is a part of the library.

The following is a list of the librarians from the beginning, with the residence of each and the term served:

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

The industrial school at Manchester was established by the legislature in 1855 and opened in 1858. Its original name was the house of reformation for juvenile and female offenders and was conducted along the lines of a penal institution. It was situated on part of the homestead of General John Stark of the Revolutionary army. In 1881 the name was changed to the industrial school and the policy of its management was changed from that of a penal to that of an educational reformatory. During the last ten years the cottage system of housing the inmates has been carried out, and the present value of the property is over $250,000.

The management of the institution was at first vested in a board of trustees appointed by the governor and council. In 1913 the trustees were succeeded by the board of control, and this board was in turn succeeded in 1915 by the trustees of state institutions.

The following is a list of the superintendents of the school from the beginning, with the term served by each:

SCHOOL FOR FEEBLE-MINDED.

The school for feeble-minded was created by the legislature in 1901. Previous to that the feeble-minded children were supported by the state at the Massachusetts School for Feeble-Minded at Waverly, Mass. The New Hampshire school was established at Laconia, and its government vested in a board of trustees, consisting of the governor and five others appointed by the governor and council. In 1913 the trustees were abolished and the institution placed under the board of control. In 1915 this board was abolished and the institution placed under the trustees of state institutions and two members, Rev. John J. Brophy of Concord and William H. Moses of Tilton, were designated to look after this institution especially.

The school is situated on the slope of a ridge, two miles from the railroad and the city. It is bounded by the Belknap county farm on the south, Lake Opechee on the east and Lake Winnisquam on the west. The school was opened in 1903, and the following year its only brick dormitory was burned. The school was rapidly rebuilt and has expanded since then.

While the school has grown steadily by new construction and the acquirement of land, the social, ethical and educational side shows equal development. Suitable social amusement and entertainment, with varied healthful occupations, such as approved by Seguin, Montessori and Dr. Fernald, are provided. The children are taught folk and other dancing, games, drills, music, basketry, knitting, weaving and the usual mental school work as far as each one is able to progress. Manual training, cobbling and the domestic sciences are also taken up. As all the vegetables, as well as the milk, for the entire school are raised on the grounds, the boys are given valuable instruction in gardening, farming and the care of the stock.

The age of admission, by application and physician's certificate, is from three to twenty-one years, but women up to the age of forty-five may be committed by probate court. The school now has a capacity of 280 children, and at this time the vacancies are all filled.

The following is a list of superintendents of the school from its establishment, with the term served by each:

Dr. Charles L. Little.....	1903-10
Dr. Benjamin W. Baker.....	1910-

THE COLLEGE.

New Hampshire college was founded in 1866 and is known as New Hampshire College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts. It was situated at Hanover and connected with Dartmouth college, both having the same president, for twenty-six years. The legislature of 1885 took steps to move the college, on the ground that it had graduated "less than forty agricultural students" in twenty years. In 1892 the college was removed to Durham.

Government of the college is vested in a board of trustees, consisting of the governor, the president of the college, two members elected by the alumni and nine appointed by the governor and council, making thirteen in all. The nine appointive members must include one from each councilor district and seven practical farmers, and not more than five shall be of one political party. The term of office is three years.

The following is a list of the presidents of the college from the beginning, together with the term served by each:

SANATORIUM FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

The sanatorium for consumptives, officially known as the New Hampshire state sanatorium, is at Glencliff, on the southern slope of Mount Moosilauke in the White Mountains. It was established by the legislature in 1907 and opened in 1909. Its establishment resulted from the recommendation of a commission which was authorized by the legislature in 1901 and which consisted of Dr. Ezra Mitchell of Lancaster, Dr. Nathaniel G. Brooks of Charlestown and Dr. Irving A. Watson of Concord, secretary of the board of health.

The commission made its report and recommendation in 1902, and five years later the legislature established the sanatorium. It is 1,650 feet above the sea and it enjoys an average of 170 perfectly clear days every year. In 1909 the two wards, one for men and one for women, were opened; in 1912 they were enlarged and a service building was added; and in 1913 and 1914 a barn, piggery, refrigerating plant, coal pocket and shack were added.

The sanatorium has a capacity of sixty-four patients now and there are 411 acres of land. The value of the property is nearly $150,000, and its management is vested with the board of trustees of state institutions. The following is a list of the superintendents of the sanatorium from the beginning, with the name of the sanatorium from which each came to Glencliff and the term served:

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS.

Presidential elections have been held in New Hampshire from the beginning of the government elections in 1788 and every fourth year since. At the first election there was no choice of electors by the people, and the legislature selected the five candidates who received the most votes. In 1792 two elections were polled before a majority vote was cast for six electors. In 1800 there was no popular vote, the legislature electing electors direct. The following is a list of all the presidential elections, the vote for the principal presidential candidates and the names of the electors:

ELECTORS—Charles G. Barnard, Lawrence M. Connor, Jules Parent, Samuel D. Felker.

THE PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY, MARCH 14, 1916.

A presidential primary was held March 14, 1916, for the first time in New Hampshire, in accordance with the law passed in 1913 and amended in 1915. In 1912 a presidential primary was conducted under the auspices of the Republican party organization, and only the Republican party participated in the voting. The official returns of the 1916 presidential primary were as follows:

REPUBLICAN PARTY.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM OF 1916.

The Republicans of New Hampshire present to their fellow-citizens a state redeemed from Democratic control, and point to the complete fulfillment of the pledges upon which the successful campaign of 1914 was waged.

We have reduced the state tax.

We have reduced the state debt.

We have kept expenditures within the revenues.

We have paid nearly half a million dollars in Democratic liabilities.

We have met the state's portion of the cost of a needless mobilization of the National Guard forced upon us by a Democratic administration at Washington.

We have maintained every public enterprise in a condition of efficiency.

We have provided for the completion of a state-wide system of highways.

We have extended the school system and provided for a larger co-operation between the state and local school authorities.

We have provided pensions for teachers of long and meritorious service.

We have made adequate provision for state institutions.

We have created a real and economical system for the purchase of public supplies.

We have established a system of municipal courts which is geographically correct, free from partisanship and thoroughly efficient.

We have set a statutory bar to the practice of appointing members of the executive council to office.

We have placed upon the statute books a model law for the supervision of the banks of the state.

We have purged the public service of incompetency and favoritism.

We have defended the integrity of the state's system of railroads.

We have extended and perfected the mother's pension law.

We have made ample appropriations for the care of the delinquent, the dependent and the defective.

We have enacted effective legislation to limit the use of money in political campaigns.

We have made a helpful beginning in the work of agricultural co-operation.

We have omitted no feasible act for the advancement of the moral or material interests of the state.

These splendid results have been achieved through the cordial co-operation of the Republican elements, whose division in 1912 brought about a temporary Democratic ascendancy in New Hampshire. Republican reunion is now complete, and we are assured of continued control of the state government.

Party Pledges.

We therefore pledge ourselves to develop and to perfect the program of progressive legislation which was initiated by Republican leaders and to which the Republican party has given constant support.

We present our candidates for governor, members of congress and other positions with full confidence in their ability, integrity and thorough republicanism, and we pledge them our hearty support, in full confidence of their election.

The next legislature will be Republican, and it will enact laws:

To produce a more equitable distribution of the cost of industrial accidents.

To establish a suitable system of factory inspection.

To extend the assistance of the state to agricultural industry.

The Republican legislature of 1915 provided for the calling of a constitutional convention. We pledge the Republican membership in that body to submit to the people amendments to our organic law which will make our system of taxation more scientific and equitable and which will permit the electorate to pass upon all questions of constitutional importance.

We reaffirm the historic policies of the Republican party in national affairs and we especially emphasize our adherence to a protective tariff, which is the surest means to guarantee stable and profitable employment to American labor and which will be the safest defense to our industries at the end of the era of spurious prosperity caused by the European war, whose horrors are being capitalized by an unscrupulous administration for personal political benefit.

We endorse the declarations of the Republican national platform of 1916, and we commend the attitude of our candidate for the presidency upon all the issues involved in the campaign.

We congratulate the country upon the nomination and the assured election of Hughes and Fairbanks; and we pledge to them the electoral vote of this state.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM OF 1916.

We, the Democrats of New Hampshire, in convention assembled, do hereby adopt the following platform:

In the Nation.

We heartily endorse the platform of the democracy adopted at St. Louis, and we pledge our united and earnest support to the great leaders chosen in national convention there. No president in our time has had to solve so many difficult and serious problems, both of foreign and domestic policy. These problems have been met with courage, wisdom and efficiency. The record of achievements in sound progressive legislation commands the approval of all independent citizens. The Democratic party has made an honest downward revision of the tariff and created a permanent nonpartisan tariff commission. It has created a national currency system that will make impossible hereafter financial panics and is controlled by the public for the welfare of all. It has improved the anti-trust laws and provided a better method for their enforcement by the passage of the Clayton anti-trust act and the federal trade commission act. It has passed an income tax and a federal inheritance tax for the more equal distribution of the burden of taxation. For the benefit of farming, it has enacted the Smith-Lever extension act, the good roads bill, the rural credits act, the grain grading bill and the law against speculation in cotton futures. It has limited the use of injunctions in labor disputes, declared that the Sherman act does not apply to labor unions, or farmers' co-operative associations, passed the LaFollette-Seaman's bill, the workmen's compensation act, the federal child labor bill, and established an eight-hour day for all government employees. It has made ample provision for military preparedness on sea and land.

We heartily endorse the action of President Wilson and congress in averting a railroad strike by the passage of the Adamson act.

The administration has dealt with foreign problems with true American spirit and has settled these controversies by the methods of peace rather than by war and bloodshed.

In our candidates for congress, Gordon Woodbury and Raymond B. Stevens, we have men who are in every way worthy to uphold the policies of our President, and to them we pledge our unqualified support.

In the State.

We favor the calling of a constitutional convention and the adoption of the following amendments:

The abolition of the governor's council.

An increase in the membership of the senate, the representation to be based upon population and not upon wealth, as now.

Giving the legislature the power to classify different kinds of property for purposes of taxation.

The initiative and referendum.

Giving the governor the power to veto separate items in appropriation bills.

We are in favor of a factory inspection law, a 54-hour law, and an eight-hour day in continuous 24-hour industries.

We are in favor of sustaining and improving the present employer's liability and workmen's compensation act.

We favor the submission to the people of a constitutional amendment granting equal suffrage.

The Democratic party believes that farming is not only the basis of all prosperity but fundamental to all life. In accordance with that belief, we point with pride to its historic establishment of federal farm experiment stations in every state of the union under President Cleveland and to the establishment by the present Democratic congress and President of the following two great farm laws:

The Smith-Lever law that makes for the extension of farm knowledge and practice to the farms and homes in every state.

The Hollis farm loan law, to facilitate long and short term loans under co-operative provisions of intelligent supervision by the government.

We believe that the tested knowledge gained at experiment stations at state colleges and brought to farms and homes as increased power and production is the highest measure of protection to the grower and consumer.

We believe that in easier and ampler money means for farm purchases, farm equipment and crop movement lies the greatest increase of protective production.

We confidently look forward to the establishment of co-operative farm bureaus of direction and distribution that shall give the farming producer a waiting market for his produce and a full dollar for its sale, and to the consumer fresh goods and first-hand prices.

Our state college has done much for the boys and girls of New Hampshire, and we pledge it our unqualified support.

We favor increased efficiency in our schools and we pledge ourselves to give the cause of education generous support.

Good roads are an asset to the state and we favor liberal appropriations for their construction, maintenance and improvement.

We believe in genuine local option.

We believe in amending the primary law so as to carry out the purpose for which it was intended, in order that there may be a reduction of the expenses attending the primary election, and for the use of such a ballot as will accomplish the purpose of the law without any voter being compelled to declare his party affiliation.

We believe if there is any reorganization of the railroad systems of this state that the interests of the people of the state of New Hampshire should be first considered and protected.

To our able candidate for governor, Hon. John C. Hutchins, and to the excellent state ticket nominated by the Democratic party, we pledge our united support.

STATE FLAG.

ELECTION, NOVEMBER 7, 1916.

The first table gives the vote of the entire state for president and governor by counties. The second table gives the vote for congressmen by congressional districts and the vote of the two referenda submitted to the people, one being on the expediency of calling a convention to revise the constitution and the other being on the question of liquor licenses. (The license question was voted upon only in towns). The third table gives the vote for councilors by districts, the fourth, that for senators, by districts. The fifth table gives the vote for representatives to the legislature by towns and wards entitled to representation and in this table votes received by the same candidate under different party emblems are added together. The sixth table gives the vote for county officials by counties.

Political parties are designated by first letters, "r." for Republican, "d." for Democrat, "p." for Progressive, "s." for Socialist nomination papers, "proh." for Prohibition nomination papers, "i. d." for Independent Democrat nomination papers, "ind." for Independent nomination papers, and "n. p." for candidates whose names did not appear on the ballot at all but were written in by voters.

In the presidential vote, the names of the electors actually voted for are not given. The names and the vote of each were:

For Hughes and Fairbanks, Republican—George A. Carpenter of Wolfboro, 43,721; George A. Fairbanks of Newport, 43,722; Charles M. Floyd of Manchester, 43,720; George B. Leighton of Dublin, 43,723.

For Wilson and Marshall, Democrat—Charles G. Barnard of Goffstown, 43,778; Lawrence A. Connor of Manchester, 43,779; Samuel D. Felker of Rochester, 43,779; Jules Parent of Berlin, 43,778.

For Benson and Kirkpatrick, Socialist—Otto Bartram of Manchester, 1,317; Frank Ludwig of Manchester, 1,316; Gustave Nelson of Concord, 1,317; Earle B. Young of Laconia, 1,318.

For Hanly and Landrith, Prohibition—Jason H. Bliss of Concord, 303; Irving C. Brown of Franklin, 303; Samuel T. Noyes of Colebrook, 303; Sherburn L. Swasey of Concord, 303.

The tables give the last names of candidates. The complete vote for each, giving the full name and address, was as follows:
